

BREAK DOES NOT MEAN WAR--BALDWIN

U.S. SYMPATHY WITH BRITAIN IN RUSS BREAK

No Official Expression from Washington Is Likely
at This Time

FEEL POLICY VINDICATED America Uncompromising in Refusal to Grant Recognition to Soviet

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Two economic Systems—capitalism and communism—
have definitely become irreconcilable
in the judgment of Great Britain and the principal powers of the world.
That's what the break in diplomatic relations between London and Moscow is taken to mean here. And as for the United States government there is every sympathy with the attitude of Great Britain.

Secretary Kellogg is of the opinion that American policy has been vindicated. No expression or comment of action of any kind is likely at this time, for there are other factors involved in the British-Russian break in which the United States does not wish to become involved. For one thing the action of Great Britain is regarded as not unrelated to the efforts of the soviets to stir up the Chinese. Indeed this is believed here to have been the straw that broke the camel's back. For although relations between Russia and Great Britain have been far from satisfactory for some time, they may have drifted along in the hope of improvement but for the hostile policy adopted by the soviets toward British interests in the Far East.

The incident proves that mutual suspicion has a way of growing into serious discord and that but for the persecution of the soviets in seeking to convert Britain to communism
there might have been a truce between the two economic systems.

WANT MORAL SUPPORT

Great Britain hopes, of course, for the moral support of the rest of the world. She may not get it officially from the American government but she has it informally. In fact the American government has from the beginning of the soviet regime been so uncompromising about the recognition of Russia that much embas-sament has resulted from the frequent argument that Britain, another great democracy, had seen fit to extend recognition to Moscow.

The American policy began under the Wilson administration and reiterated under Secretaries Hughes and Kellogg has disregarded trade opportunities and material considerations basing its whole attitude on the importance of the sanctity of contracts and the right of the American people to be undisturbed by those who would seek to overthrow the present and substitute another economic system whether the conversion was to be by peaceful propaganda or force.

Britain's act in severing relations with Russia may lead to a new policy at Moscow. It may mean a decision to confide sovietism to the territory of Russia and give up the propaganda outside. Such a proposal would be the basis for a new relationship but the less evidence of good faith in carrying out such a program were to be given to the satisfaction of the rest of the world, more promises hardly would suffice. The view here is that Russia has been definitely told the conditions under which she can expect recognition. If she spurns them, she will have to face the consequences of economic and political isolation.

FIND MAN'S BODY NEAR EAU CLAIRE

Believe Murderer Lured Man to Door and Struck Him
With Heavy Instrument

Eau Claire—(P)—Started by the sight of a man's feet and legs sticking up out of the ground at the rear of the farm home of Harold Munson, 45, a bachelor living alone a mile north of Elva, near here, 124 Hanson, a road worker, Friday morning investigated further and found the dead body of the owner of the farm, Munson, where it had been dragged and cast into a ditch.
That the motive for the murder was robbery was indicated by the fact that all the money on Munson's person had been taken. He was in the habit of carrying large sums of money in his pockets.
He had been summoned to the rear door of the house and struck down with a terrific blow on the skull from some heavy blunt instrument, spatters
over the upper part of the door casings, indicated.
Trempealeau county authorities
have been unable to unearth a single clue pointing to the identity of the murderer. The man had been dead 24 hours, condition of body, indicated,

SINAI INSCRIPTIONS MAY BE DECIPHERED BY HARVARD EXPERT

Boston—(P)—The key to the baffling characters of a strange half Sinitic, half Egyptian language, which flourished nearly 3,000
years ago and which science
has never been able to decipher,
may rest today with Prof. Kirsopp Lake, head of the Harvard-Michigan expedition to Mount Sinai, Arabia.

A terse message from Professor Lake to the Boston Herald reports
new found fragments of the mysterious "Sinai inscriptions" which Harvard university authorities said might throw an entirely new light on Moses and Biblical history.
The Sinai inscriptions were first found more than 20 years ago on the mountain where Moses received the tablets of the law. They have never been satisfactorily read,
although authorities have unceas-ingly sought their solution. If Professor Lake's fragments fit into the existing gaps it was possible, archaeologists here said, that they might not only remake history but reveal a new origin of modern languages.

MINIMUM TAX BILL PASSED BY SENATORS

Measure Provides $5 Tax on All Persons Receiving Independent Income

Madison—(P)—Wisconsin's first minimum tax bill was passed by the senate Thursday night, by a vote of 15 to 10. The bill, introduced by Senator Keppel, calls for a tax of $5 on all persons enjoying an independent income, with few exceptions.

The measure was introduced in an effort to tax all those persons not reached by other taxes and who are not handicapped by dependents.
Senator Roethlisberger's bill, repealing the Wisconsin laws calling for school holidays on Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays was passed. The new bill provides that appropriate exercises be held on those days. An amendment which was attached to the bill also calls for exercises on armistice day.

The senate voted, 15 to 6, to adopt the resolution by Senator Teasdale increasing legislators' salaries. The new system would pay the law makers $10 a day while in session.
Another bill to pass the upper body
was Senator Roethlisberger's measure which allows the state highway commission to lay aside $400,000 annually for the construction of interstate bridges.

The county benefiting from the location of any bridge would be taxed
up to $150,000 as its share in the cost and the city at the end of the bridge would be taxed 40 per cent of that amount. Projects under consideration in this connection are at Marinette and Praline du Chien.
Hurry through a light calendar,
the senate Friday concurred in an assembly bill setting the maximum speed limit on Wisconsin highways at 40 miles an hour and increase of ten miles an hour over the present law.

LENROOT'S DAUGHTER IS ILL AT BADGER U.

Madison—(P)—Mrs. Dorothy Len-root Black, daughter of former Senator and Mrs. Irvine L. Lenroot and a student at the University, is confined to the university infirmary with pneumonia. Infirmary officials report her condition as improved Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Lenroot left Washington Thursday for Madison to see their daughter and will probably arrive Friday night or Saturday morning.

Danger To Levees Near New Orleans Has Passed

New Orleans—(P)—Danger to the levees of the east bank of the Mississippi below Old River probably has passed, Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, said Friday.
The vast amount of water being diverted from the Mississippi through the Atchafalaya as well as the crevasses farther up the river, was believed to have secured the safety of the levees along the east bank.
General Jadwin is in the flood area
area supervising the work of the various food control bodies, including the Mississippi River commission, the spillway board and the reservoir board, all of which will make reports to him this summer.

CAL CERTAIN TO PICK BLACK HILLS SOUTH DAKOTA SENATOR SURE OF DECISION

Norbeck Makes Prediction
After Conference With President Coolidge

Washington—(P)—A definite prediction that President Coolidge would go to the Black Hills of South Dakota for his summer home was made Friday
by Senator Norbeck of that state after a second call at the White House
in as many days.

Senator Norbeck predicted that the president would go to the South Dakota state game lodge when he leaves
Washington on June 13. The White House held in abeyance any formal announcement that a site had been chosen.

Undismayed by the accepted belief that President Coolidge will spend the summer in the Black Hills, a Michigan delegation, headed by Governor Green, Friday renewed the state's invitation for the president to make his vacation home here. They said the president replied that his plans called for a trip farther west.

MARINE CAPTAIN KILLS GENERAL IN NICARAGUAN CITY

Alleges Self-defense—Liberal Officer Said to Have, Fired
at Natives

Chinandega, Nicaragua—(P)—Captain William P. Richards of the United States Marine corps, shot and killed the liberal General Caballero here early Friday morning, allegedly in self-defense. General Caballero is declared to have been intoxicated and firing his revolver at people in the street when Captain Richards returned fire, killing him.

Managua dispatches on May 11 said that a band of former troops under General Caballero, who called himself
a liberal, but who was described by the liberals as a bandit, had entered the outskirts of Chinandega killing a half dozen natives, wounding a number of others and engaging in an orgy of plundering. They fled before the arrival of American marines.

Dispatches three days later said
Caballero, with 400 men, still was holding out near Chinandega.

MRS. WRIGHT STILL FIRM AGAINST DIVORCE ACTION

San Francisco—(P)—Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright, who has been living here
since last winter, declared Thursday
that she would not leave her husband,
Lloyd Wright, architect, had offered her $5,000 cash and $200 monthly for the rest of her life if she would divorce him. She said she had refused the offer.

CRUICKSHANK, FARRELL STAGE CLOSE BATTLE

New Rochelle, N. Y.—(P)—Bobby Cruikshank and Johnny Farrell staged a close battle in the third round of the Metropolitan open Friday.
Cruikshank standing one stroke
ahead of Farrell at the close of 54 holes. Bobby scored 72, Farrell 73 for Farrell. This made Cruikshank's total score 219, while Farrell was a stroke back at 220. Willie MacFarlane took 54 for 231, and August Nordens the New Rochelle caddy master had 56 for a card of 234.

GOVERNOR'S DOG GOES TO HAPPY HUNTING GROUND

Madison—(P)—The executive
mansion is mourning. A "friend of the family" is dead. "Fritzie," cocker
spaniel, playmate of the governor's two sons, once the victim of an automobile accident and once the subject of a police hunt, favorite and only pet of the present governor, died
suddenly Thursday.

OFF WITH OLD--ON WITH NEW

Mayor A. C. Rule, whose proclamation sets Saturday as the official opening of the straw hat season in Appleton. He urges that the "unsightly felt" be cast into discard, to be replaced by the sprightly straw.

Rule Rules Straw Hat Is To Rule City Tomorrow

Straw hat day will be celebrated Saturday in Appleton, even though squalls are predicted by the weather bureau. The proclamation was issued by Mayor A. C. Rule and his honor will prove his sincerity in the issue by wearing a straw-kelly-humself.

The official season for straw hats will open Saturday, May 28, and though the winds may blow them
down the street, to be in the mode Appleton citizens must wear them that day. Felt hats may be worn through Friday night but by morning
they should be packed away in moth balls for the fall season.

That the mayor means his proclamation is proved by this picture.
The proclamation:
The City of Appleton during the past week, has undergone a transformation which will for some time come reflect itself in the lives of our citizens. With the help of nature, the city has, climatically speaking, thrown off the drab, colorless trappings of winter and blossomed forth in the beauties of Spring.

In order that all Appleton may make the momentous change at the same time, I hereby proclaim May 28th to be Straw Hat Day, and urge that on that day the unsightly felt be cast into the discard, to be replaced by the sprightly straw.
IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have caused the Great Seal of the City of Appleton to be affixed hereto this,
the 27th day of May, 1927.
Signed: Albert C. Rule, Mayor.

MANY NOTABLES TO ATTEND FLOOD MEET

27 States to Be Represented at Chicago Conference, June 2 to 4

Chicago—(P)—A cabinet officer,
state and national senators and representatives, mayors of the three largest towns in the area, railroad presidents, bankers and business men from the 27 Mississippi valley states are expected to attend Mayor William Hale Thompson's flood conference here June 2 to 4. Associated with Chicago's executive in the calling of the conference were mayors of St. Louis and New Orleans.

Congressman Frank R. Reid has been appointed chairman of the flood control committee and Senator Wesley L. Jones is chairman of the appropriations committee.

Among the political notables who have already signified their intention of attending the meeting are: Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and Congressman John C. Ketchum, Michigan, and Earl C. McChesney, Michigan.
Senator-elect Frank L. Smith, Illinois, Theodore Damman, secretary of state in Wisconsin, and Ernest Francken, secretary of the board of harbor
committees, Milwaukee, also have advised Mayor Thompson that they will be present.

Madison—(P)—The executive
mansion is mourning. A "friend of
the family" is dead. "Fritzie," cocker
spaniel, playmate of the governor's two sons, once the victim of an
automobile accident and once the subject of a police hunt, favorite and only pet of the present governor, died

'LINDY' FLIES FRENCH PLANE ABOVE PARIS

Handles Unfamiliar Ship With Ease That Surprises
Aviation Officers

Paris—(P)—Captain Lindbergh flew over Paris in a French plane for more than an hour Friday morning. During the flight he paid homage to France's unknown soldier, flying over the tomb in the Arc de Triomphe
in graceful curves and descending at one time to within about 150 feet of the hallowed spot.

When he returned to the air port at Le Bourget after his flight over Paris, Captain Lindbergh went through a series of aerial acrobatics that delighted military aviators gathered to watch him. One of the stunts was a sham battle with a plane piloted by Sergeant De Troyat who had followed him on his flight.

The flight was carried out without the knowledge of the general public and few who saw the plane over Paris guessed that the hero was once more
in his favorite element.

The tier was the guest of Colonel Poly-Marchetti, commandant of the thirty-fourth regiment of aviation, who furnished him with one of the newest models of a 350 horse power military scout plane. It was the first time Lindbergh had flown in this type of plane; yet he made a perfect ascent and landing, winning the admiration of everyone who watched him at the controls.

INSPECTS OWN 'BUS'

After landing he went to his own
"bus" to make a careful inspection
and give some suggestions to the mechanics getting it in shape for Saturday's air trip to Brussels.
It was the first time he had been aloft since he arrived from New York
and he seemed decidedly like a boy
at play—happy at the pleasure of flying and at getting a little respite from formalities and attention by crowds.
Pilot Lindbergh displayed his remarkable familiarity with aircraft
when Airframe officers began showing him the mechanism and contents of the French plane. He needed little explanation and took off, handling the machine as if he had spent his life in this new model, which he had never seen before.

During his air stunts over the military field before landing he simply acted the little group of experts watching him. Although all of them are expert pilots, some commented that his acrobatics and aerial flip-flops were frightening in their daring.
After breakfast he went shopping.
He had no "official" program Friday morning and his flight and shopping trip were unheralded.

IS BEING SCULPTURED

He looked around for presents for his mother and friends back home. Friday morning he had to have his pic-
graph. He is also being sculptured by Goussard.

Lindbergh returned to the embassy only an hour before he was due to leave for a luncheon given by M.
Painleve at the ministry of war. An

BERGER ASKS CLEMENCY FOR SACCO, VANZETTI

Boston—(P)—Victor Berger of Milwaukee, only Socialist congressman
Friday called on Governor Allan T.
Fowler to urge clemency for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, radicals who have been condemned to death for murder in a payroll robbery. Mr. Berger declared that in his opinion the conviction was a frameup and was due to the radical beliefs of the two men.

After his interview with the governor, Mr. Berger said that he had told him he had an opportunity to render as famous a decision as that of Governor John T. Altgeld of Illinois, who in 1894 pardoned several radicals who had been imprisoned for bomb throwing. Five of the members were hanged, however.

GOVERNOR REAPPOINTS 3 STATE BOARD MEMBERS

Madison—(P)—Governor Zimmerman last Thursday announced
three appointments. Henry G. Riedel, Milwaukee, was named a member of the state board of pharmacy, succeeding himself, for the term ending April 12, 1928.
William Mauthe, Fond du Lac, was named a member of the board of construction, succeeding himself for the term ending the first Monday in February, 1928.
Edward Zacher, Arabwood, was appointed a member of the state board of examiners in chiropractic, succeeding himself for the term ending April 24, 1928.

LEGION POST HEAD ISSUES MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

Harvey Friebe, commander of Oney Johnston post of the American Legion, Friday issued a Memorial Day proclamation to legionnaires and ex-service men.
The proclamation follows:
"To members of Oney Johnston
post of the American Legion:
"Memorial day is just at hand and we as legionnaires feel it our duty to help make this day sacred for the comrades and buddies of ours who have gone on before.
The Memorial day program is fully arranged and in order to make it a success, I ask you to cooperate with your organization and turn out Monday morning at 8:30 at Elk hall in civilian clothes.
Legionnaires are requested not to wear their uniforms.
"This is the first time that the exercises have been held in the morning and everything will be completed by noon, so I ask you Legionnaires and ex-service men for a large turnout. On Sunday morning legionnaires and ex-service men and their wives should assemble at 10:30 at Elk hall for services at the First Methodist church."

MUSSOLINI EXPECTS TO BE PREMIER FOR ANOTHER 15 YEARS

Duce "Buries Lies of Universal Suffrage" and Wants to Prepare for War

Rome—(P)—Benito Mussolini who five years ago began his task, under the Fascist banner, of creating a new order in Italy, today declared he intended to remain at the head of the government ten or fifteen years more.
He is even ready to retain the premiership for a longer period if necessary to achieve the ideal Fascist state.
"Not because I am so lustful for power
but because it is my precise duty," he explained. Applause greeted these words in the chamber of deputies Thursday and when he was able to make himself heard again, he added:
"My successor is not born yet."
Today, May 28, the premier declared with great emphasis, "We bury completely all the lies of universal democratic suffrage." He explained that the state machine would be revolutionized, beginning at the end of this year, when the chamber would be renewed.

CALLAHAN GETS BRIEF CASE, REYNOLDS SAYS

Madison—(P)—John Callahan, superintendent of public instruction is going to get his brief case in final.
The tenure controversy is final.
The state official ruled that Clinton
B. Ballard, superintendent of public property, must purchase the case for
Mr. Callahan, although he previously had refused to sanction a requisition for its purchase. When Ballard refused, a ruling was asked from the attorney general.

CONFESSES MURDER AND KILLS HIMSELF

Slayer Describes Girl as "Devil With Baby Face" in Note at Milwaukee

Chicago—(P)—The identity of a Chicago girl, described by her self-confessed slayer as a "devil with a baby face," was sought Friday by police, following the suicide in a Milwaukee hotel of a young man who signed himself W. C. Martin.
Martin, who left a note saying that his father, whom he named as Charles C. Martin of New York, an official of a shipping concern, informed of his death, indicated in his farewell missive that he had deserted his wife for the unnamed girl, and that he had slain the latter when she proved unfaithful to him.

Police in checking over recent Chicago slayings, believed that the girl might have been Evelyn LaGrand, who was shot to death by one of two men
at the door of her apartment in a North Side white light district last week.
Martin's wife, Mrs. Ruth Evans Martin, who was visiting with her mother in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, said she was not aware of any arrangement with her husband. A son was born to them recently.

"He telephoned me Wednesday from Chicago, saying he would catch an afternoon train up here to see our son," Mrs. Martin was quoted as saying over the long-distance telephone.
"He was the most loving and company of husbands. I knew of no other woman."
Instead of going to Cedar Rapids
young Martin went to Milwaukee, registered at a hotel Wednesday night, and was found dead late in the next day with a phial of poison by his side.

ORDER SOVIET OFFICIALS TO LEAVE LONDON

Note Specifies Russ Who Will Remain to Wind Up Affairs of Arcos

BRITISH RECALL ENVOYS

Parliament Approves Step After Labor Attempts to Prevent Action

Paris—(P)—Minister of the Interior Albert Sarraut told the chamber of deputies Friday that the activity of the communists, both in France and abroad, constituted a grave danger to the national interests.
London—(P)—Premier Baldwin
made the emphatic declaration Friday
that the breaking of diplomatic relations with Moscow "does not mean or imply war against Russia."
A note severing relations between the soviet and British governments was delivered at Chesham house, the soviet legation Friday morning. The note requests the official soviet representatives to leave and specifies who will be allowed to remain to wind up the affair of Arcos, Ltd., the Russian trading organization. The British diplomatic mission in Moscow will be recalled immediately.

It is not yet decided who will look after the British interests in Moscow.
The note, which makes about 700
words, will be given out for publication late Friday night, it was stated.
ALLOW ABOUT WEEK
It is understood to allow from a week to ten days for the soviet representatives to leave England. The cabinet's decision to sever all relations with soviet Russia was approved by parliament after the Labor members had gone to every extreme to prevent the break and former Premier Lloyd George, still dubious on the wisdom of the step, begged of cabinet a vote of 357 to 111, Thursday night,
adopted the Conservative motion, sanctioning the decision.

Previously the house voted down a labor motion introduced by John R.
Glynne, calling on the government to be committed to severance of relations
until a committee had investigated.
Sir Austin Chamberlain, the foreign secretary, said the government case
was based on documents already made public and on a mass of further information, but he was not an instructor
of peace, but a continued source of irritation and danger.

Lloyd George declared that he did not deny that the soviets had not kept faith, but it was his opinion that the time was not opportune for a break
and the consequences would be serious.
Chesham house announced Friday afternoon that the German embassy had agreed to look after the soviet's interests here as part of a system of winding up diplomatic affairs which will require some months to complete.
The German embassy staff will be divided between Paris and Berlin, the others returning to Moscow. Most of them, including Charge Rosenberg and other officials are planning to leave in less than a week.

POINTS TO DANGER

"The government cannot longer
take the responsibility in maintaining diplomatic relations which so conducted and so abused, are not an instrument
of peace, but a continued source of

CRIPPLED LINER SLOWLY BEING TOWED TO PORT

New York—(P)—The new giant Matson liner Malolo, crippled in a collision with a freighter off Nantucket
last week, the first day of her trial cruise, Friday was being slowly
towed to New York by tugs.
The $7,000,000 pride of the merchant marine, with approximately 150 persons aboard, lumbered on its 150 mile journey to port.
The ship was damaged about the neighborhood ready to transfer passengers and crew should need arise.
A hole was torn in one side of the liner and its boiler rooms were flooded
in a collision with the Norwegian freighter Jacob Christensen in a heavy fog late Tuesday night, 15 miles off Nantucket headlight.
The size of the Malolo, a 22,000-ton vessel, made towing difficult. The liner is not expected to reach New York until Saturday or Sunday. The sea was smooth and the fog clearing,
according to radio dispatches.
Guests remained aboard.

LAWRENTIANS TO CROWN MAY QUEEN AT ANNUAL FETE

Students Will Drop Class Work and Celebrate Spring Carnival

May day, the annual spring carnival day at Lawrence college will be celebrated Saturday. Although the program proper will not start until 2:30 in the afternoon, classes will not be held all day.

The pageant to be presented was written by Miss Katherine Wisner and Miss Miriam Russell. It depicts the triumph of spring's coming after the hard months of winter.

The feature of the fete is the crowning of Miss Helen Diederick as May queen. She was chosen for this honor by a vote of the girls early in May. Her attendants will be Miss Mary Reeve and Miss Anna Marie Woodward also chosen by election.

Others having prominent parts in the pageant are Alberta Burrows, as winter; Margaret Parsons, spring; and Gerda Bank, the crown bearer. More than 200 girls will take part in the pageant.

Children of the faculty will escort the May Queen to her triumph.

The story of the pageant represents the yielding of winter to the power of awakening spring. Spring decides to hold a contest, in which the beauties of the world will participate in deciding which one shall reign as Queen of May. Girls from Denmark, Spain, Russia and other countries of Europe compete. None of them satisfy the critical eye of spring. Finally, a crowd of children, enter with a maiden in their midst. Spring acclaims her as Queen and the pageant ends with a merry revel around the May pole.

The college Y. W. C. A., will serve a waffle breakfast at Lamar House in the morning. Other events of the day will be a baseball game between Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Phi Alpha, both of whom are at the top of the percentage lists, at Brandt field, and an intercollegiate tennis meet between Lawrence and Ripon. Lawrence was defeated by one match, in a close meet earlier in the month.

Blaechers have been set up on the campus for the May fete and the section where the pageant is to be given will be wired off. Lael Westberg, business manager, has announced that tickets will be sold on admission.

Mrs. Henry Wriston and a number of other women of the community will serve as patronesses. The general chairman of May Day is Miriam Russell. Other committee heads are Verel Knap, costumes; Irene Elkert, dramatic direction; Miss Wisner, dances; Alberta Burrows, music; and James Ford, publicity.

EDUCATION BILL ON AID IS POSTPONED

Measure Would Fix Maximum Aid at 10 Cents Each for Transporting Pupils

Madison — (P) — The Assembly Thursday indefinitely postponed a bill by the committee on education setting 10 cents per day per child as the maximum state aid to counties for transportation of farm children to schools. Under the present law all children living more than a mile from the rural school may be brought in by bus supported by the county and state. The bill would have limited the state aid for these busses to ten cents per child, up to four children in a family; the county receiving a maximum of forty cents per family per day for this transportation.

There was a lengthy discussion before Assemblyman Coleman's bill for a state-owned garage and repair shop for the state's motor vehicles was ordered engrossed. The assembly also refused to indefinitely postpone the measure before this step was taken. Opponents of the measure pointed out that the garage could be used only for state cars in the vicinity of Madison or the city in which it was built. Assemblyman Budlong's bill providing that no granite from the state

HIGHWAY SERVICE MAP IS SENT TO PRINTERS

Madison — (P) — The Wisconsin State Highway commission's service map went to press Friday and will be in the mails to about 500 subscribers before midnight, according to C. N. Maurer, traffic engineer of the commission.

The service map, the first of the season, showing in colored overprints quarry be sold for monumental purposes on the open market was ordered engrossed. It was pointed out by opponents of the measure that cessation of quarrying of the state granite would throw prison labor out of work. State prisoners are used in the quarry.

Mr. Budlong, however, said that the granite might still be quarried and sold for building purposes. He declared that the state quarry granite has been found to contain iron, which, after the monuments are set up, rusts, makes the monuments look poorly and gives a bad name to Wisconsin granite, cutting down the sales of other Wisconsin granites that are more perfect.

CITY HALL OFFICES WILL CLOSE MONDAY

City hall offices will be closed from Saturday noon until Tuesday morning. They will be closed Monday in observance of Memorial day.

The construction under way and the detours operating on the state trunk highway system for the convenience of tourists was to have been first issued a week ago. Due to unavoidable delays occasioned by the destruction in a train wreck of the paper on which the map was to have been printed, the state-at-large last week was without authentic information as to the condition of the main traveled highways in Wisconsin.

The service map will be issued weekly through a period of twenty-eight weeks and takes the place of road condition reports previously issued weekly by the commission.

The map is mailed to about 500 subscribers consisting of oil stations, hotels, associations of commerce, banks and to other bodies, and is the only authentic map issued by the state highway commission.

CHURCH SERVICES NEED INSPIRATION FOR BUSINESS MAN

Theology and Intellectual Religion Unattractive, Says Babson

Omaha, Neb.—Roger W. Babson Friday addressed the National Council of the Congregational Churches here at their biennial convention. Mr. Babson made the point that the business man demands of the church something that is neither intellectual nor dogmatic. He showed by statistics that the business men in the country are behind the churches and are backing them financially as never before in the history of America. He gave six reasons why some business men are not personally attending church services, and the chief of these was that the business man is not interested in theology nor in an intellectual religion, but desires a rational inspirational service. Mr. Babson's verbatim statement is as follows:

"The church needs a catechism treating of God, prayer, love, service, spiritual power and eternal life in a rational way. This catechism will teach the same fundamental principles emphasized in the Old Testament as interpreted by Jesus, but would be stripped of the superstitious traditions and beliefs which have been added thereto, and built up around these principles since Jesus' time. I would not criticize the most ardent fundamentalists nor do I think to undermine the faith of any one; but I do ask that Jesus' gospel be presented in a rational and simple way to the millions who are groping for a scientific faith with a spiritual power."

"There exist today philosophical teachings but they lack spiritual power to hold the tempted, strengthen the downhearted and give wisdom and inspiration for great things. There exist orthodox doctrines which seem to possess remarkable powers but which appeal less and less to educated and thinking people. Let us not disturb the followers of any belief as all are doing good."

"The need of the hour is, however, that we add to these a scientific presentation of the principles underlying the Christian religion. For instance, the power of love is definitely based upon the Law of Attraction, the sermon on the Mount is in exact accordance with the Law of Action and Reaction, while even Divine power may be that lure for happiness which seems to have been the compelling force in all nature since the creation of the world."

"The churches are today doing good work among the youth people. Sunday schools are gradually being improved; and a great amount of good social service work is being done. There is, however, a great and influential group of grown-ups who, although nominally supporters of the

ASK CHILDREN TO HELP BUILD FUND

Save Pennies, Is Appeal of Childhood League to Appleton's Youth

Children of Appleton are asked by the Childhood League to save their pennies and give them on Children's Day, June 18, to the American Red Cross to aid refugee children in the devastated flood area of the Mississippi river.

"There are thirty-three million children in the United States," declared Miss Emily Marx, a director of the Childhood League. "If each child gave an average of only 3 cents, a million dollars would be raised. That would certainly bring much comfort and happiness to the suffering children of the Mississippi Valley."

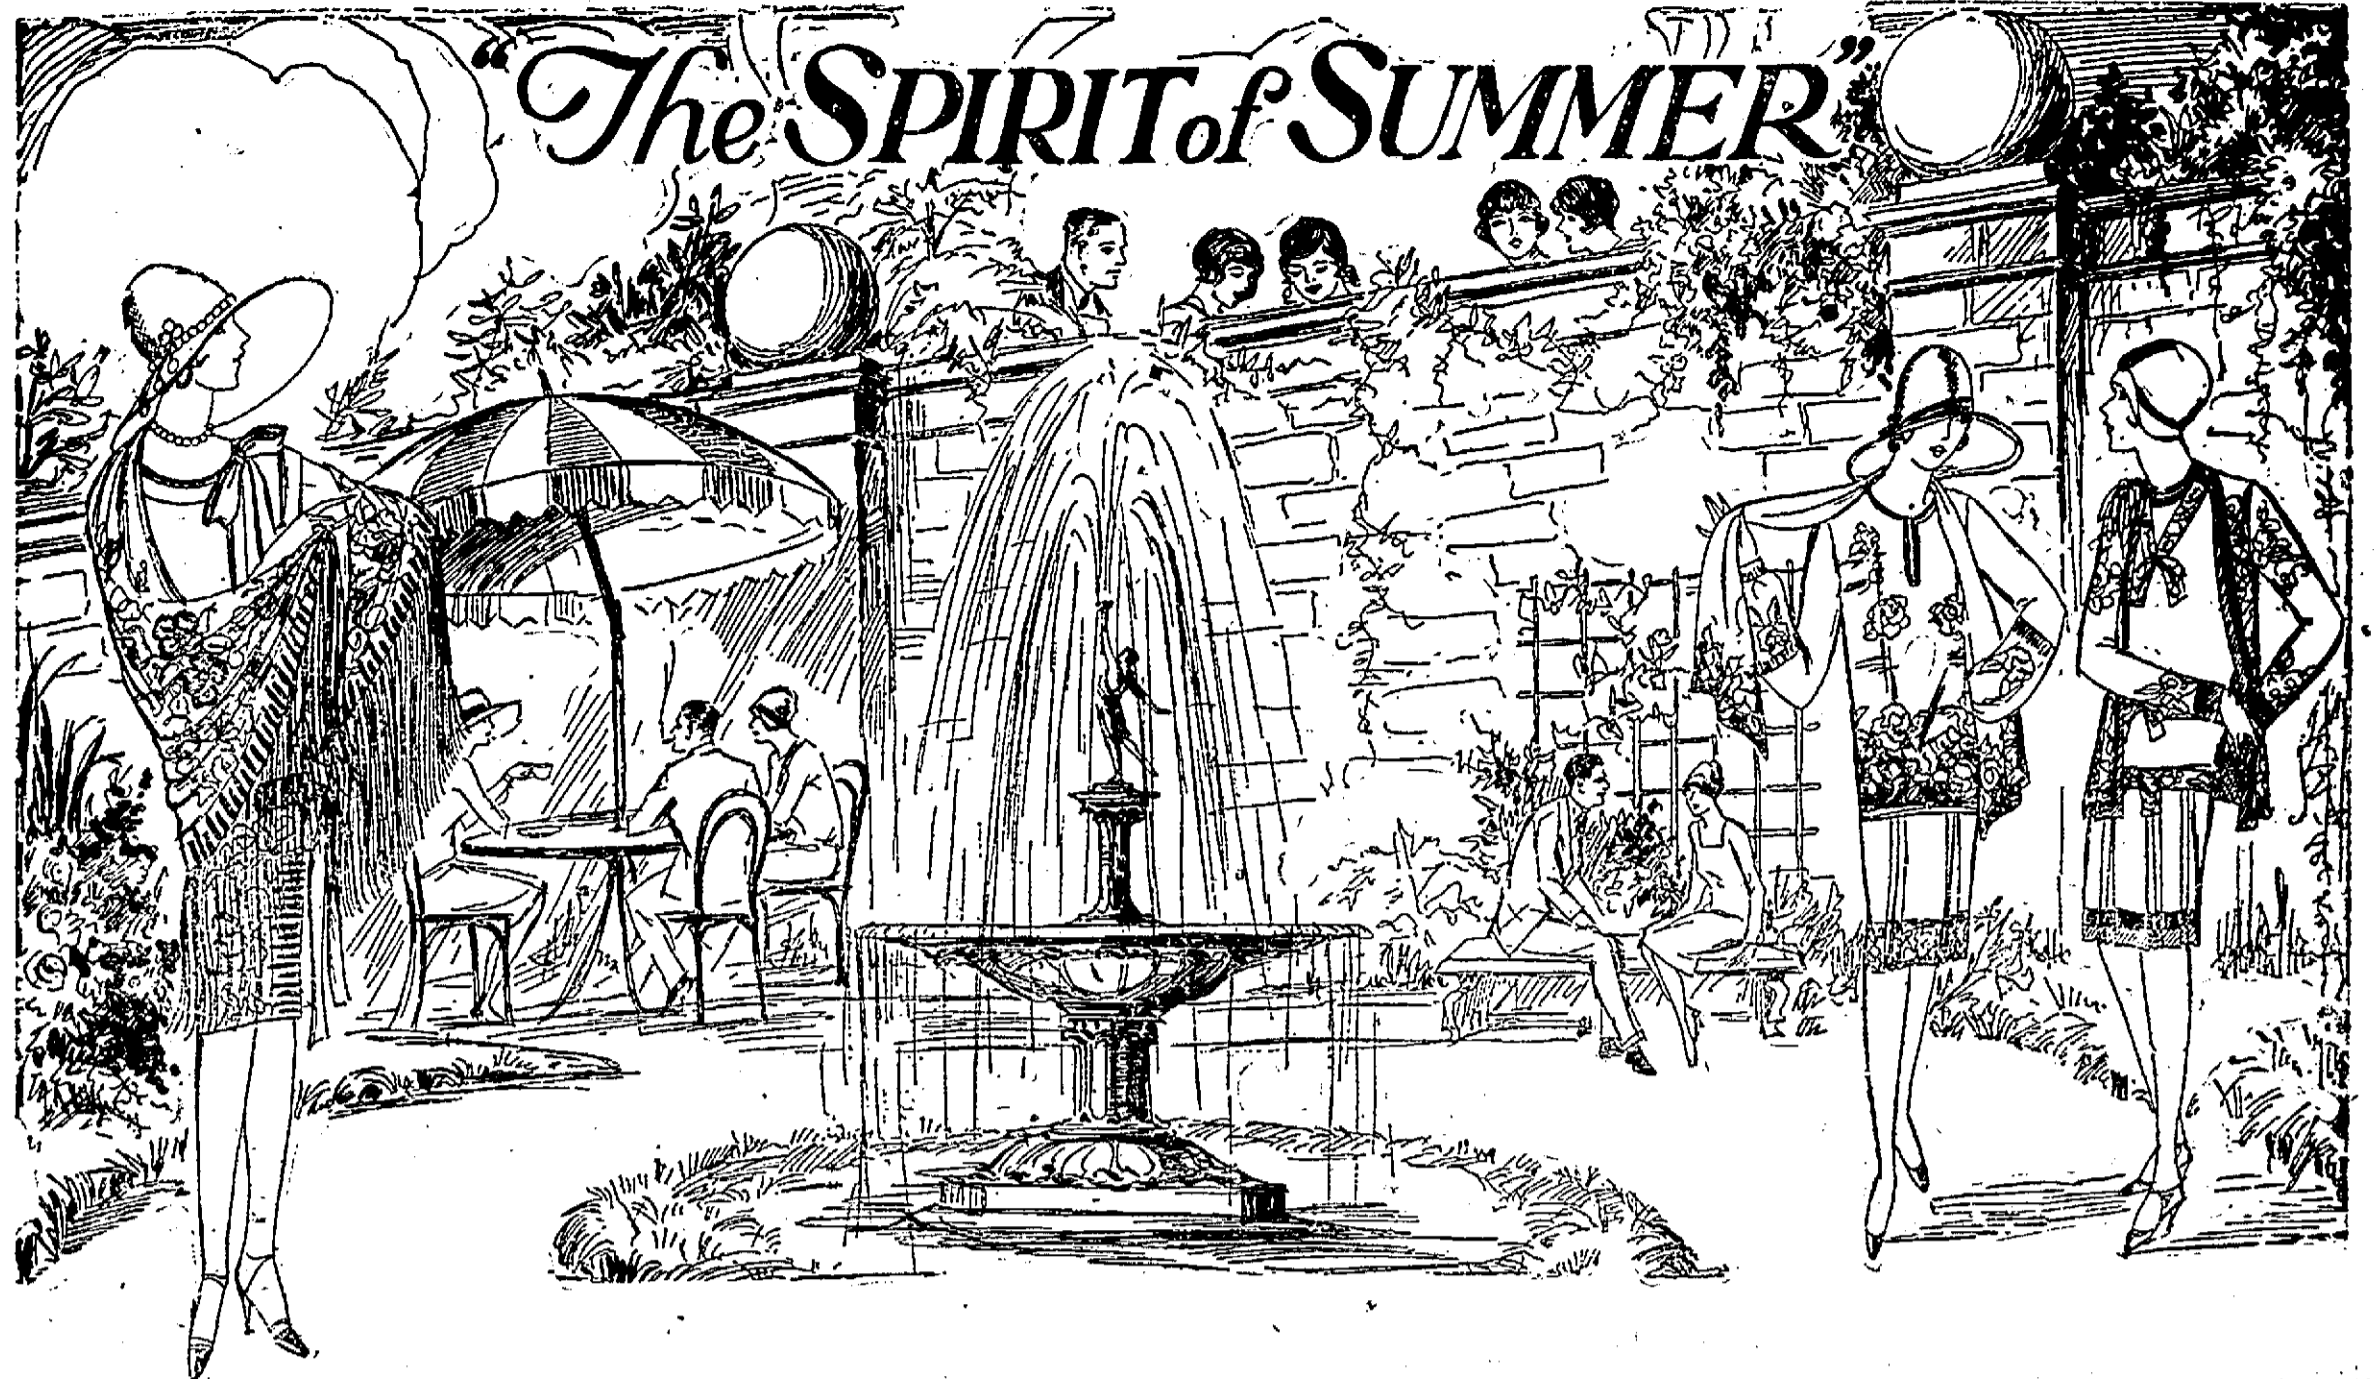

"On Children's Day festivities will be held in many localities. What could be more fitting for the children of the country than to mark their day of rejoicing with voluntary offerings to bring a ray of sunshine to other children less favored by fate? Not only would this be a gracious act in itself, but it would also inculcate a thoughtfulness for others."

"There is over one million dollars worth of candy eaten every day in this country," continued Miss Marx. "Certainly half rations of candy for a few days would not work any very serious hardship on the youngsters of the nation."

"The national headquarters of the American Red Cross are at Washington, D. C. It has 2,591 local chapters. Children can take their pennies to school, Sunday school, or any local civic organization for forwarding to the Red Cross."

Church—get little from it. Yet this group is hungering for guidance, courage, inspiration, and a faith that will make them fearlessly meet old age and death. It is for this group which I appeal. Why cannot we do something more for them—through the Churches, the Shorter Bible, the press, the schools, the movies, and the radio—without shaking the faith of the earnest followers which the Church now has?"

BIG TEN COACHES COMPLETE SCHEDULE FOR GRID BATTLES

Indiana's Request for Two Home Games Forces Un- usually Long Session

Madison, (P)—After a six hour session Big Ten athletic directors and coaches completed football schedules for 1927 with every school except Michigan carding at least five conference games. Minnesota will have the heaviest, playing six conference games.

The final list of games was posted, after Indiana's request for two home games brought Dr. John Wilce's agreement to take his Ohio team to Bloomington, Oct. 27. Northwestern, Nov. 17, completes the Hoosier's home card.

Holding out for the two home games Zorn Clevenger and Pat Page, athletic director and coach of Indiana, respectively, caused the session to last until early Friday morning. Wilce finally saying, "He would be the goat" will consent to travel to Bloomington.

Chicago will break a long standing precedent when the Maroons come to Madison, Nov. 18. Michigan, with four Big Ten opponents, has the navy on schedule for a late season game. Illinois, Chicago, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern and Ohio have three home conference games each. Inter-sectional games interspersed the schedules. Northwestern meeting Dartmouth, Chicago clashing with Pennsylvania and Ohio meeting Princeton. All three of the eastern teams will come west for the contests. ## BOLD BUTCHERS DEFY BARBERS TO PLAY BALL

"Close shaves" evidently don't mean a thing to local Butchers who have challenged the Barber's union in a game softball "to be played any time, anywhere, under almost any conditions." Whether the barbers will accept this "cutting" challenge from their rival sharp edge tool wielders is a matter of conjecture. The head of the Barber's union could not be reached for a statement Friday.

High pressure over the Lake region and eastern states, with fair weather, except on the New England coast. An extensive trough of low pressure is now over the plain states, with active centers over North Dakota and eastern Kansas. This is causing rain over the central and northern plains, with rising temperature and increasing cloudiness eastward as far as Lake Michigan. This "low" will cause showers in this section tonight and Saturday as it advances, with somewhat higher temperature to night. Fair weather is possible by Sunday, however, as the "low" appears to be moving steadily eastward.

THE POST-CRESCENT'S PROGRAM FOR A GREATER APPLETON

City Manager Form of Government.
Greater Representation for Appleton on County Board.
A systematic plan of Park and Playground extensions and improvements.

A CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM

The investigation by Milwaukee circuit judges of abuses pertaining to the legal profession, brought forth a quantity of evidence revealing to the public an almost intolerable condition affecting the administration of justice. An injured person with a just claim found that his troubles were just beginning. He became the victim of sharks, commonly known as ambulance chasers, quite without sympathy for him or his rights, bent upon the purpose of making all they could out of his misery. Many of these chasers were not members of the legal profession, but their profession could only be made profitable by direct connection with lawyers who were willing to shut both eyes to the improper practices obtaining in order to get a case and make some money for themselves.

Judge Aarons, who presided at the inquisition, has submitted a program for the correction of the abuses obtaining, which is a constructive measure. The program aims to obtain two ends, one to prevent the strife, the perjury and other abuses naturally resulting from ambulance chasing and the other to prevent as great an evil, overreaching and unconscionable settlements by claim adjusters acting for corporations responsible for injuries. Judge Aarons proposes a prohibition of ambulance chasing, and the plan goes into detail to accomplish the end sought. It makes for clean and honorable disposition of injury cases, a claim and a trial in the open, with advantages to no one. It provides that settlements made by parties are not conclusive unless they are fair and reasonable. Perhaps the provision permitting a court, in which perjury has been clearly perpetrated, to immediately bind the wrongdoer over for trial is as practical a suggestion as is contained in the many practical provisions of Judge Aarons' report. It is plain that the Milwaukee circuit judges have been aroused by the long and continuous course of conduct of men who have shown "an almost complete forgetfulness of their high duties" and that "they are solely imbued with an inexcusable greed for personal gain."

When Judge Aarons says, "Where persons, severely injured and in great distress, without knowledge of their rights, are immediately sought out by claim adjusters who attempt and sometimes succeed in making inadequate settlements, the due and orderly administration of justice is obstructed," he has put in good language a statement that will meet the immediate approval of those who wish justice to be administered fairly and in an orderly manner, just claims to be paid fairly and adequately, and advantage to be taken of no one.

In the situation which has developed the next step is due from the legislature of Wisconsin. If that legislature wishes to have some constructive effort mark its session this year, it will take Judge Aarons' recommendations without alteration.

OUR POLICY VINDICATED

The British cabinet has announced that it will sever diplomatic relations with Russia. France is expected to follow suit. The British decision was based upon the soviet's abuse of their diplomatic privileges. The Russians used their headquarters in London as a base for revolutionary activities in many parts of the British empire. Part of the evidence upon which the Britons acted was obtained by English secret service men in a recent raid on the British trading agency in London.

President Coolidge and our state department have been criticized freely and frequently for their refusal to recognize Russia. In withholding recognition we were going out of our way to be unfriendly to the Russians, these critics said. Furthermore, we were losing millions of dollars in trade annually and eventually we would probably be pushed out of the soviet market altogether as the Russians would give all their trade to the nations that had recognized them, it was pointed out.

Great Britain recognized Russia because it believed the reestablishment of diplomatic relations would be the opening wedge for British trade in that market. In fact, great things were predicted commercially and England expected that Russia would be its best customer and greatest friend. Now, however, it must be apparent to observers that the Anglo-Russian trade agreement was not worth the paper it was written upon and that England has paid dearly for any advantages gained. Britain's experience has been a sad one and they will not soon be taken in again. Our government showed itself far wiser than the British. It did not fall for the soviet's expressions of good will. It knew the character of the soviet leaders and refused to grant them recognition so that they could send swarms of propagandists to this country in an attempt to undermine our institutions and sow the seeds of discontent.

PASS THIS BILL

The assembly by a vote of 52 to 33, a sufficient margin to assure its passage, has advanced the Polakowski bill to license automobile drivers. This measure is a commendable one and should be passed without delay by both the assembly and senate and signed by the governor. Wisconsin too long has neglected its automobile problem and is paying dearly for it. Last year several hundred persons were killed in automobile accidents in this state. Many of these accidents could have been avoided had a proper amount of caution been observed and the drivers mentally capable of operating a motor car.

If the passage of the Polakowski bill means the saving of only two or three lives a year, the measure will have been justified. Every driver should be licensed. We require a high order of intelligence and experience before we let a man operate a locomotive; street car operators must pass certain tests and so must a host of others who operate vehicles that carry passengers. Automobile drivers, however, do not pass any tests. Anyone can drive a machine, whether they are fitted to do so or not.

With an auto licensing law in force many of these mentally incompetent and reckless drivers will be weeded out. As soon as this is done there will be a corresponding decrease in the number of accidents. The law, once passed, should be enforced to the limit and every violator promptly and drastically punished. We have sacrificed enough human lives to our carelessness and indifference and it is time to call a halt to the slaughter that goes on on our highways.

THE SUMMER WHITE HOUSE

President Coolidge has practically decided to spend the summer in the Black Hills of South Dakota, according to Washington dispatches. Other sites offered have been inadequate or too near large cities or else the altitudes have not been high enough. It is reported that the principal reason the president is going to the Black Hills is because their high altitude will provide relief from a nasal affliction from which he suffers in low altitudes, particularly in the summer time.

We are sincerely sorry that President Coolidge is not coming to Wisconsin. There are several camps in this state that would have provided ideal summer homes and everyone of them would have been placed at the disposal of the chief executive and his suite promptly and generously had he chosen Wisconsin. Furthermore, he would have received a genuine welcome and everything possible done to make his stay a memorable one. Of course, the president knows best, but he really is passing up a splendid state in which to spend his vacation. Our fishing is excellent, our climate ideal and our hospitality second to none in the nation. Perhaps next year he may consider Wisconsin. We hope so for this state would like to entertain the president and his party and show them something of true Wisconsin hospitality.

OLD MASTERS

Great God, I ask Thee for no manner of ill
Than that I may not disappoint myself;
That in my action I may soar as high
As I can now discern with this clear eye.

That my weak hand may equal my firm faith,
And my life practice more than my tongue saith;
That my low conduct may not show
Nor my pretence true.

That I this purpose do not know,
Or overrated Thee do so.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all direct letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

YES, WE DOCTORS ARE RATHER QUEER
We doctors are a queer lot. When laymen tell us so we get mad, but I freely admit we are a queer lot and I dare any regular doctor to get mad about it.

For example, we regular doctors frequently ridicule the layman's "patent medicine," especially when it happens to be a shotgun concoction and a "cure all." Of course the term "patent medicine" is a misnomer to begin with—the medicine is not patented, for the good reason that it is not original and not an improvement, but just some ancient mixture or formula or recipe which anyone is privileged to use if he wishes to make such medicine for himself or to sell. The medicine is not patented but the name is registered, as a rule, and no body can use the trade mark or trade name so registered, unless by the consent of the proprietor. So the correct term is proprietary medicine. Very few medicines are really patented. Acetyl-salicylic-acid-ester was patented many years ago, but the patent expired a few years ago, since which time anyone may make or use this pain killer (it is most familiarly known as "aspirin") now.

We regular doctors have ridiculed especially the various proprietary "cough and cold cures" of the day. We have done so not just because we are jealous or narrow, but because many of these proprietary medicines contain dangerous drugs, poisons, such as acetanilid, phenacetin, morphine, opium and may do serious harm or even bring death to the unwary purchaser. But we have ridiculed them because they are shotgun or blunderbuss mixtures and because they purport to be "good for" not one trouble or illness but a long list of ailments. Well, here I have done so and give three or four medical sniffling laughs. In a recent issue of our proudest medical publication, the Journal of the American Medical Association, than which, take it from me, a fellow is fair to middling standing, there is nothing whicker. I find an ad which brings us around $200 and it is so good—as humor—that I want to quote some of it here:

The High Cost of Coughs

When you stop to consider that 100,000,000 colds and coughs in the United States each year cost us through absence from business alone something over a billion, and to think of the huge toll of lives, annually, from respiratory infections, the widely proven success of a rational, scientific remedy like (here the name of the nostrum is given) takes on a new significance.

Of course all this is just nostrum monger's apoplexy—in my opinion. But now let this glorified cough cure vendor tell us scientific doctors (snicker some more here) what the stuff he wants us to prescribe is good for.

Take a cough with (Once more the name of the nostrum)

Coughs and colds
Bronchitis
Grippe coughs
Whooping coughs
Cough after measles
Influenza cough and all Respiratory infections

Sounds reminiscent of Doctor Green's Lintment which was good for all maladies of man or beast. But the A. M. A. needs the money, and no doubt fellow members who tell patients they have "colds" need some hints about treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Never Mind, Never Mind
I don't know whether you believe in prayer or not, but I am asking God to bless you for the fine letter you wrote me. (H. J. S.)

Answer—Never mind that—the mule didn't believe in medicine, but the veterinarian cured him just the same. I am happy to know that some good came from what I wrote you. K. C. H., above there, will probably be mad about my reply to the foolish question about diet for sciatitis—though it is just as reasonable to eat pork and cabbage for sprained ankle as it is to imagine any diet is good for sciatitis. If K. C. H. files a kick about my flippancy, I think you better write to counterbalance the fuss. The only trouble is that many of us just love to complain when we don't get a favor, and so few of us bother to say thanks when we do get one. This peculiarity of human nature often leaves me in a bad hole—and that, I maintain, is no laughing matter. Ah, but when a letter like yours comes along, I'm so tickled I don't care what old sour-face does about it.

Come One, Come All

I notice you invite me to come to you with their problems and you promise them absolute confidence and sincerity. This inspires me to think that girls will be just as welcome. I am 19 years of age and expect to be married in the near future. Will you please send me any information you think I should have or tell me where I can obtain it. (B. H. E.)

Answer—I am glad to send you the special information I think a girl of 19 should have. When our encouragement or marriage is announced, let me know, and then I'll send you such information as I think a girl should have at that time. To be sure, I offer such information and advice to girls as well as boys. But I promise nothing more than the information or advice which I believe the correspondent should have. This should explain why I sometimes make no reply at all to such letters—I judge from the letter that the correspondent is not entitled to any information or advice from me. That's that, and I am quite obstinate about it. (Copyright John F. Dille company.)

THEY'RE OFF

HASKIN WRITES TODAY

UNCLE SAM TO REDEEM BONDS

Washington, D. C. — Give your collection of bonds the once over. If in it you find any government debentures of the issue of 1917 known as the Second Liberty Loan, sort them before November 15 next.

It is by no means compulsory that you cash them in. You can convert them into other government securities, or you may keep them in. You can, in fact you can do anything you please with them.

But bear in mind that if you regard them as an investment they will be absolutely worthless after November 15. This statement is predicated on the assumption that nothing is an investment that brings no returns. Second Liberty Loan bonds will bring you no returns after the date mentioned. You can get their par value for them, but if you keep them in the old hiding place for the next 15 years they will never earn you another nickel of interest.

If you have a nice little bundle of those bonds that have been bringing you in 4 1/2 per cent a year, and if you recall that they are 25-year bonds, you may be somewhat annoyed at learning that you must begin worrying about what to do with their equivalent in money, instead of clipping coupons for the next fifteen years. But if you read what is printed on the face of the bonds you will learn that your Uncle Sam stipulated, when he issued them as of November 15, 1917, that he could redeem them any time after ten years. The reason he is exercising this prerogative is that he has a little loose change on hand and that it doesn't cost him as much to borrow money now as it did away back in the perilous war days.

In short, he isn't going to pay 4 1/2 per cent for what he can get for 3 1/2 per cent. He figures on saving at least $22,500,000 a year, which is a sum sufficient to keep the Mayflower in commission and several other governmental activities under a full head of steam.

DIFFERENT FROM WAR TIMES

This serves to prove that Uncle Sam's financial condition is far from what it was in war time. He is no longer in the predicament of a man who must borrow money, no matter what he has to agree to pay in the form of interest. Now he borrows on his own terms, or refunds his old obligations at a rate of interest lower than he agreed originally to pay.

When the Second Liberty Loan bonds were offered to the public—"offered" being a pleasing fictional term expressive of the manner in which high pressure salesmen worked upon so-called investors—Uncle Sam was not so strong, speaking in terms of hard cash. He had to have a lot of cash in a hurry. In his early youth he had to pay as high as 8 per cent, plus a premium or a commission, when he needed money. At middle age, he had even found himself in extremities such that he was forced to say to the money changers, "give me the gold and change me what you will." Later he has grown affluent and was able to borrow money at 2 per cent, or as low as 2 1/2 per cent. Then he found himself in a tight corner, needing more money than anybody thought there was in the world, so he raised the interest rate to 3 1/2 and 3 3/4 per cent.

He got what he asked for, but discovered immediately that he had not asked for enough. So on his second call he said he would pay 4 per cent and agree that in event he had to borrow more money and pay a still higher rate he would correspondingly reward investors who had responded to his earlier call for assistance. That event came to pass and Uncle Sam paid 4 1/2 per cent on his Third Liberty Loan bonds, whereupon holders of the second issue were entitled to convert their bonds into those of the higher interest-bearing securities. Subscriptions aggregating $4,617,522,300 from 2,490,000 subscribers were received for the Second Liberty Loan. Bonds to the amount of $3,807,865,000 were allotted and issued. Shortly thereafter, all but approximately $109,000,000 of the bonds were converted into the 4 1/2 per cent bonds corresponding to those of the Third Loan.

Of the original Second Loan, $750,361,800 have been redeemed on various accounts, and $1,260,166,150 have been refunded into 3 1/2 per cent Treasury notes of 1930-32 maturity. This leaves some 3,500,000 bonds with a face value of $1,697,337,050 which Uncle Sam now asks the owners to present for payment by November 15. He is prepared to redeem these obligations in cash, or to give in exchange for them Treasury notes or certificates bearing interest at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent.

GREAT PUBLICITY REQUIRED

Widespread publicity is necessary, it is officially stated, to get the owners of these bonds to present them for payment. In fact, it is as difficult to persuade people to cash in their bonds as it was to get them to buy the securities in the first place. Since the bonds are registered only in exceptional instances, the Treasury Department has no list of the holders and can not notify them personally. It must advertise as extensively as possible and avail itself of all possible indirect advertising.

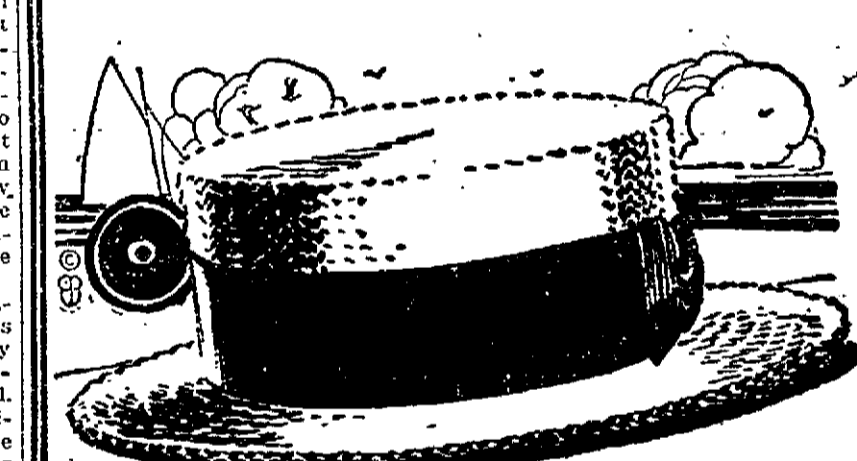

Advertisements have been and are being published in every English daily in the United States telling the public that Second Liberty Loan bonds have been called for redemption on November 15. Weekly and semi-weekly newspapers are also being used and foreign language publications as well. All banks have been requested to spread the news among their customers and placards will be posted in every post office in the country. The spoken word has gone forth over the radio.

It would seem, therefore, that anybody who holds on to one or more of those bonds after November 15 must be deaf, dumb, or blind, or so generously disposed that he wants Uncle Sam to owe him money but pay no interest on the indebtedness.

There are, it has been ascertained, many people who prefer security to interest when they come to decide what to do with their money. They would rather have a government bond that bears no interest than any other kind of an investment, no matter what the latter may promise or yield. They seem to feel that they would rather have a certain sum in a safe place and always available than take the chance of making an investment that promises well but carries no guarantee that they will get out what they put in.

Comedy Pageant Planned
By A. W. C. For Next Fall

An entertainment "The Womanless Wedding" sponsored by the Appleton Women's club will be presented at Lawrence Memorial chapel Sept. 22. It was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the Appleton Women's club Thursday afternoon at the clubhouse. This was the first meeting of the elected and appointed board for the coming year's work.

The comedy production will be largely pantomime, it was said, and is reported highly humorous. It will be presented by Appleton people directed by a representative of the Book Producing Co., home talent theatricals, Chicago. The manager of the company has been in the business for 25 years. The purpose of the entertainment will be to make money for the club work.

The clubhouse will be entirely redecorated and the kitchen will be remodelled. It was decided. This work will be done during the summer.

Letters will be sent to assemblymen and senators from this district in the Wisconsin legislature urging them to use their influence in supporting the teacher's pension fund as it has been in force. A bill which would annul the statute has been before the houses.

Mrs. L. C. Sleeper, chairman of the industrial and economic relationship committee of the ninth district of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs suggested that the club send letters to legislators to keep the present pure food laws in regard to baking powders instead of amending them. The board will send word urging this action.

Special to Post-Crescent
Forest Junction—Webster school, district four, town of Woodville, taught for the past two years by Miss Lillie Loefer, closed a nine-month term with a picnic at the school Tuesday. ## TO CRUSH ROAD STONE

Crushing of stone for the resurfacing of highways in the town of Brillion is scheduled to begin next week. Road plans for the season were discussed at a meeting of the town board of supervisors at the town hall here Tuesday evening. Supervisor Charles G. Persohn, who has been placed in charge of the crushing operations, has been setting up the crusher this week in the town of Brillion. The crusher is east portion of the township. He anticipates that belated corn planting and other spring activities may be far enough advanced next week to release a sufficient number of men and teams from the farms for the operation of the crusher and the distribution of the material over the roads. It was said.

Weather conditions this spring have been scarcely more favorable for plowing on the farms than they were last fall, and large acreages still remain to be fertilized and tilled. The heavy rains this week are seriously retarding progress and the planting of corn and potatoes, which had been completed only partially is now at a standstill awaiting a return of favorable conditions.

The Gerhard Brooks' post of the American legion is planning its annual observance of Decoration day. The plans include a procession from the village to visit the cemeteries here and at Hollandtown, where appropriate exercises will be held at the graves of soldiers.

BEBE'S NEW COMEDY DRAMA WITH RICK: "SENORITA"

Bebe Daniels has done it again! The fascinating Bebe has not only scored another triumph but has given us a new proof of her versatility. In her latest Paramount picture, "Senorita," which opened yesterday at Fischer's Appleton Theatre, Bebe appears in a distinctively different role.

As the glass smashing fury of a "A Kiss In A Taxi" we saw a fiery, tempestuous Bebe Daniels. Here we have a dashing, swaggering, high-spirited "gentleman" of ancient family who proves "himself" more of a man than the sons of the pampas themselves without ever losing the glorious charm of her femininity.

The story of "Senorita" is a rollicking romantic comedy of love and adventure in South America. Bebe herself, in the role of a North American girl of Spanish ancestry who visits her paternal grandfather at the ancestral home in South America. Upon her arrival she learns that her grandfather has always understood her to be a boy and that for her to appear in other guise would break his old heart.

With characteristic impulsiveness she masquerades as a boy and appears to her grandfather in that guise. Situation follows situation in bewildering sequence. Not only is she accepted as a boy but finds herself in a position where she must make good as the youthful head of the family. She does, to the satisfaction of everybody concerned.

Bebe plays the masculine role with skill and a conviction that is refreshing. Opposite her is James Hall, her hero of "The Campus Flirt" and "Stranded in Paris," doing some of the best work of his sensational screen record.

FIVE ESSENTIALS TO LEARN TO SWIM

Confidence, Breathing, Balance, Relaxation, Timing All Important

BY A. P. JENSEN
Confidence, breathing, balance, relaxation and timing are the five important qualities you will need to develop in order to learn to swim well. Some of these come easily and others will require much work. However, with some hard work upon the more difficult ones, there is no reason why you cannot learn them all and become a proficient swimmer.

The first quality is a hard one, and it is the one that you heard about so much in the last article. That is confidence in the water. As long as you fear the water you cannot develop this quality. There is nothing to be afraid of in the water. This confidence is developed by you making yourself at home in the water. Play around in it. Practice in it, the breathing, the leg kicking, the arm movements, floating and most important of all, relaxing in it.

The next important quality is breathing, and if you practice this faithfully, the breathing ought to come easily. If one can breathe while in the water there is no reason for drowning. It is merely a matter of holding the breath when the face is submerged and renewing this supply when the face is out. Remember you can take enough air in one second to keep you supplied for about 60 seconds. The proper method of breathing will be explained later. Work on your breathing.

The third quality needed in swimming is balance. This means that the nerves and muscles must be taught to hold and keep the body in a comfortable position in the horizontal plane. This is one of the reasons why swimming is such a great help to a person who is tired. It has been proved that man rests more in the horizontal position, than in any other. Every part of your body is at rest at the same time. Then another reason why this balance is so necessary is that in swimming the body must go through the water, and it certainly is easier to pull the body through when there are no brakes on, holding it back, than it would be if the body were erect or even at an angle of 45 degrees.

Then comes relaxation which is an important quality. The more the body is relaxed the lighter and more buoyant it is in the water. This is the reason that a man who is muscle bound, and is unable to relax his muscles at all finds it such a hard task to learn how to swim. Every swimmer should learn to relax his left arm as his right arm is doing the stroke, and vice versa.

21 QUALIFY IN FIRST TESTS FOR BIG RACE

Indianapolis, Ind.—(AP)—A score of drivers Friday squared engine parts closely and kicked viciously at dubious-looking flies to determine the fitness of their mounts for the second day of elimination trials at the 500-mile memorial day race at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Twenty-one qualified Thursday. The rest of the 40 non-qualifiers were expected to take their time trials between 3 and 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. The fastest 33 will start Monday's race provided more than that number attain the minimum requisite speed of 30 miles an hour.

In the first day's trials Frank Lockhart won the pole position for the race and set a new lap and ten mile qualification test records. Peter De Paolo, 1925 winner, gained the middle position in the front row and set records which lasted until Lockhart took the track.

Hartz broke the previous year's lap and ten mile record, having been clocked at 116.733 miles an hour for the ten mile qualification. As first qualifier Ralph Hepburn had broken the four lap record.

Lockhart's new marks are 129.913 miles an hour for one lap of the two and one-half mile track and his average for the four laps was 120.1 miles an hour.

This will give you more endurance and you will find that your stroke will be much more even, and that your body will slide through the water with less effort.

The fifth and last quality is coordination. The highest type of stroke is displayed when you are able to make your body do as your mind dictates. This means that you have your breathing timed so that it will work in with your arm stroke and with the slightest twist of the body, and also with the leg kick. This is one of the big faults with most "would-be" swimmers. Either their arms work too fast for their breathing or their feet don't seem to coordinate with movements of the arms or vice versa. Combine these five qualities and you will find swimming easy, enjoyable and beneficial.

300 ATHLETES IN BIG TEN CLASSIC

Michigan Again Favored Saturday With Four Others Given Chances

Madison—(AP)—Three hundred athletes, the stars from each of the ten universities in the Western Conference swarmed over the field at Camp Randall stadium Friday for the preliminary trials of the Big Ten outdoor track and field championship meet.

Six men will qualify in each of the 16 events for the finals Saturday.

Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio State are the teams favored to battle it out for championship honors, with the Wolverines figured to have a slight edge. Northwestern, Chicago, Indiana, Purdue and Minnesota will be represented by sparkling athletes but these universities are not considered to have the necessary team balance to be placed in the contending division.

Steven Farrell, veteran coach at Michigan, has muscled a strong all-around team since the opening of the outdoor season and expects to repeat his triumph of a year ago, when the Wolverines captured the honors at Iowa City. Michigan has won dual meets from Illinois and Ohio State and Farrell's athletes have been showing steady improvement.

Outstanding on the Wolverines roster are Captain Northrup in the broad jump, javelin, and pole vault, Hester in the dashes; Cooper in the hurdles, Ohlheimer and Mueller in the quarter, Schaefer in the discus and Ketz, who tosses the hammer. Farrell also has Hornberger in the two-mile, Lemont in the 800 and run and Lovett in the field events.

Both Illinois and Iowa along with Wisconsin and Ohio State are given outside chances to beat Michigan. Iowa will rely upon a well balanced team composed of Cuhel in the hurdles and dashes, Doyle in the pole vault, Cunningham in the 220, Baird in the quarter, Hahn in the distance events, Allison, another hurdler and Nelson in the field events.

Wisconsin is counting strongly on its versatile captain, Charles McGinnis, of Kansas City, whose remarkable feat of winning three first places enabled the Badgers to clinch the indoor championship last March. McGinnis will compete in the high jump, the hurdles and the pole vault. Captain Anton Burg of the University of Chicago is counted on to furnish the stiffest opposition to McGinnis in the high jump as they are rated as two of the greatest jumpers in America.

While the two-day meet is in progress the athletic directors football coaches, basketball coaches and faculty representatives will be holding important sessions. The basketball

SPECIAL SCORING DEVICE FOR MEET

Measuring and Scoring Outfits Planned by Lieb for All Spectators

Madison—Unique scoring and measuring devices, tested for the first time at the inter-collegiate meet last Saturday, will be used in the Western Conference Track and Field championship meet here Friday and Saturday of this week.

Tom Lieb, custodian of equipment, is responsible for these unusual innovations, which will aid the spectators in viewing the various field events from the stands. The main scoreboard, 15 to 10 feet, will register the team scores by events, with progressive totals, in full view of all. Special scoreboards and measuring devices will be placed adjacent to each field event, which will indicate the best mark of the day and show distinctly the world's and Conference records. Sliding red arrows will designate the marks made by each performer.

Large white thermometers have been erected at the high jump and pole vault standards, operating on the same principle as the equipment above mentioned. Those naval pieces of equipment will make the field events much more interesting to the audience, especially since they enable the fans to compare the meet's marks with the existing records.

University Radio officials announced Friday that the results of the Western Conference Track and Field championships will be broadcast from Camp Randall stadium on Saturday afternoon over state WTA. The meet is

WASHINGTON ACCEPTS RACES WITH BADGERS

BILLY LAMONT BOXES IN MADISON MONDAY

Billy Lamont, Superior boxer who made such a hit in the Appleton ring last year that he won a place on every local card, finally taking the windup position against Don Davis, Pacific coast champ, will meet the Montana Kid at Madison Monday. Billy was a favorite here for his hard-fighting with none of the stand-off, play-for-a-decision style. He was given a shade over Davis, then in his prime, here.

MUSSOLINI EXPECTS TO STAY IN OFFICE

transformed into an organ of the corporate state, the members being elected by the national corporations created by the chapter of labor instead of by the people directly.

PERFECT ARMED FORCES

"It is a fundamental duty to perfect our armed forces," the premier shouted. "We must at a certain time be able to mobilize five million men. I believe there will be a crucial point between 1925 and 1940. In European history, and we must make our voice heard and see our rights recognized. If Italy wants to amount to something, she must face the second half of this century with a population of at least 60,000,000." (Italy's population now is something more than 42,000,000.)

He deplored the dropping off in the Italian birth rate in some provinces and the increase in urbanism. He evoked laughter by suggesting that money might be raised for social work among poor mothers by creating a tax on childless marriages.

Eulogizing the police force, which now numbers 100,000, and describing the efficiency of its work against criminals, particularly the Sicilian Blackhand, the premier said: "Order comes before culture; the policeman is more important than the professor."

IT'S NEW

It's a new one! What? The tie or suit? Nope, the lid. Frank Younger, president of Lions club, bought it purposely to wear Saturday, the opening day of the straw hat season.

political opponents of the regime, Mussolini declared: "It is necessary to be very intelligent and very subtle in carrying out the work of suppression. Ours is not a regime of terror; we merely take these persons out of circulation as a doctor would an infected person."

Sportsman Asks Support Of Bill Before Assembly

BY B. A. CLAFIN

There is a bill about to come up in the legislature within a very few days that is of such vital import to all of us that I cannot refrain from bringing it to your attention again. Read this carefully, all of you sportsmen, and everyone else too, for it concerns you all.

I have a letter from Frank N. Grasso, secretary-treasurer and legislative counsel for the Isak Walton League of Wisconsin, which goes to the point so sharply that I am quoting it here verbatim. This is the letter:

"There was never a truer proverb than 'Strike while the iron's hot.' And the iron was never hotter than right now, with the Conservation Bury 4018 having just passed the Senate. As it goes to the Assembly we must strike one last, mighty blow. If you believe that this bill, the joint product of outstanding conservation groups in the senate, endorsed by leading state organizations, will take conservation out of the mire of politics and put it on a basis of genuine, expert conservation methods, and will insure to the boys and girls of tomorrow a great outdoor state with all its natural assets preserved and developed, get behind the bill actively."

Just five minutes of your time and a two cent stamp will tell your assemblyman how you stand on the bill. If you are not sufficiently informed as to its merits, there are plenty of people around you who will be glad to explain it to you.

The bill was passed by the senate

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS WILL SELL POPPIES TOMORROW

Appleton residents are urged to purchase poppies Saturday when 45 girls of Appleton high school will sell the flowers on the streets from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock in the evening. Proceeds will go to disabled veterans of the state. Mrs. George Horvick of the legion auxiliary will be in charge of the sale, while George Ruth will handle the legion part.

GUN VICTIM FATHER OF FORMER STUDENT HERE

Miss Thelma Hoffman, daughter of Peter J. Hoffman, prominent road contractor and bank director of Black River Falls who was shot and killed this week, was a former Lawrence student of the class of 1923. Miss Hoffman attended Appleton school for two years and then went to California to a college. She was a member of Epsilon Alpha Phi sorority which later became Beta Phi Alpha national sorority.

Mr. Hoffman was shot by a farmer, W. C. Rhodes, 70, who lost his temper when the former refused to give the farmer's suitcase until he produced a check for it. Mr. Rhodes had come to the city to do road work for Mr. Hoffman.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born May 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Regenfuss of Kaukauna.

DOC'S NEW LID

Regardless of the forecast, that there may be rain, blizzard and whatnot on Saturday, the official opening of the straw hat season, Dr. E. L. Bolton, president of the Kiwanis club has purchased a new straw hat which he proposes to christen Saturday.

EXPECT LARGE CROWD AT PLAY BY CHOIR

Several hundred tickets are reported sold for the second presentation of the three act musical comedy, "Savageland," which will be presented Friday evening at St. Joseph hall. The mixed choir of the congregation is sponsoring the show for the benefit of the new parish of St. Theresa. The comedy was shown about six weeks ago but because many failed to witness the performance at first time it was decided to give it again. Father Eugene and Prof. A. J. Tholais are the directors. About 30 young people are in the cast.

NO MAIL DELIVERY ON MEMORIAL DAY

No mail deliveries will be made in the city or rural districts Monday, Memorial day, according to the postmaster. The service windows, including stamp, money-order, general delivery, and registry departments, will be open from 8 to 10 o'clock Monday morning.

MEMORIAL PROGRAMS OBSERVED IN SCHOOLS

Memorial day programs were given in nearly all schools Friday morning or afternoon by the pupils, directed by the teachers. Decoration day books containing songs, recitations and drills appropriate for the programs were distributed to the teachers several weeks ago.

Some schools offered separate programs in various rooms but in the junior high school assemblies were held for all students. In most of the grade buildings, the upper grades and lower grades had combined programs respectively.

VIROQUA BOASTS "YOUNGEST" BAND

Kindergarten School Conducts Uniformed Organization of 20 Members

Virolqua, Wis., — (AP) — Wisconsin probably has one of the "youngest" bands in the country.

Twenty children in the local school's kindergarten—a regular, uniformed, marching, musical organization.

It was a gradual growth in the kindergarten class. During the first part of the year the children took turns playing the drum while the others marched. A bell was added. Other simple musical instruments came, one by one, until something resembling an orchestra played for the marching exercises of the kindergartners.

Virolqua has a high school band. After one of the concert a child came to school and wanted a band. The instruments—drums, bells, sticks, and tambourines—were secured, and the children decided which instruments they wanted to play. One child said the big band was led by a director, so a director was chosen for the kindergarten band. The first piece the band played was a march all the children knew. They worked on that until everyone could keep time and play together.

Then a new piece, "Dance of the Honeybees" by Benjamin Richmond, suitable for part playing, was introduced. The children listened and decided which instruments were best suited to the different parts.

When word came that there was to be a Christmas program the boys and girls were told that they could have the band if they wished to, and if they played well. That was a new incentive, and the band practices every day from then until the day of the program.

The children were comparing their band with the school band. Someone said the big band had suits and caps, and so it was decided that their band should have suits and caps. Some white material was provided, the suits were cut out and the children made them. The caps were of white, and black paper. By Christmas time the suits were ready, and the band was doing well enough to play at the program.

Besides getting a sense of rhythm, the children learn much about sewing, and particularly about the value of cooperation, the school officials said.

A bill introduced into the New Hampshire legislature would have required one of each 27 beds in hotels to be seven feet in length.

GOOD STUDENTS ENJOY SUCCESS IN LATER LIFE

Badger Professor Finds That Poor Work in College Lessens
Chance of Achievement

Madison—(AP)—Success in college work does preface success in post-college life, Prof. Hugh Allison Smith, University of Wisconsin, holds this to be the truth, in an article on the long discussed question.

In one of the principal articles in "Education" a magazine published in Boston, Prof. Smith declares that "the present belief that success in college does not preface success in life, dates from at least a century ago, and now is as mistaken as ever it was in other generations."

Prof. Smith rejoins doubters of the value of scholarship in college with a statement of results of an investigation he undertook a decade ago comparing college and after college records of all graduates of the bachelor's course, over a period of 45 years, in a large university.

In general, he says, the investigation disclosed that 14 of each 15 honor graduates attained success measurable by two standards—estimates of acquaintances and intimates, and appearance of names in Who's Who. On the other hand, but one of 45 non-honor graduates was successful in as great a degree as the 14 out of each 15 honor graduates.

Prof. Smith argues that the findings of a decade ago still hold good today. He quotes Phi Beta Kappa orations from 1827 to 1909 to show that eminent men of other days were just as alarmed as scholars are today over the apparent popular apathy toward scholarship. He then points out that "the modern tendency to define success in terms of money and luxury rather than of intellectual and moral worth and distinction is no new phenomenon."

In another argument Prof. Smith declares that "our education is out of step with present-day life and should be equipped with more modern methods and content, and that it has kept step only too well and should return to the proved and safer disciplines and subjects of the past."

The Badger educator concludes: "If a student belongs to the highest tenth of his class, in general to the group marked excellent, his chances of achieving a career in life distinguished by the approval of his fellow

The Maintenance Is Built Into Concrete Streets

When the street in front of your home or place of business is paved, you naturally want to be sure that the pavement chosen will be the most satisfactory and economical that money will buy.

Before you decide this important matter, investigate thoroughly the investment advantages of portland cement Concrete Pavement.

Be sure you know what a standard Concrete Pavement is. You can recognize it by the pleasing light gray color. It is made of a definitely proportioned mixture of sand and pebbles, or broken stone, held together by that tenacious binder, portland cement.

TRADES COUNCIL ADDS PROTEST TO BILL ON PENSIONS

Measure Would Wreck
Teachers' Retirement Fund, Organization Holds

The Appleton Trades and Labor council Wednesday night added its protest to hundreds that are being made against bill 115, which "virtually wrecks" the teacher's retirement fund.

One of the purposes of the funds was to attract people of ability to the teaching profession, it was pointed out. Other fields of endeavor offer better financial opportunities and people of ability can enter these fields and get the benefits of their efforts. In the teaching profession the salaries are too low to allow the teachers to accumulate property or an estate, it was said. The old age problem was a serious one and the retirement fund relieved the situation considerably because it made it possible for teachers to retire after 25 years of service with a moderate annuity.

Opponents of the measure to abolish the fund point to the fact that after teachers reach the age of 50 years, they no longer are considered fit for teaching. In other professions, when a man is past 50, his services are deemed most valuable because his experience has enriched his judgment, it was brought out.

If the bill abolishing the fund would pass, the schools would suffer as a result, according to opponents of the measure. It would be impossible for people of ability and vision to enter the teaching profession because of the low salaries. With few stronger people coming into the profession, the quality of the work in the schools would depreciate, the council members held.

Adolph Guyer and George Brock were elected permanent members of the Appleton City council to represent the Trades and Labor council.

C. C. McDonald, representing a labor publication, made a short address.

OSHKOSH EXPENDED MILLION LAST YEAR

Payments for Maintenance and Operation of City Totaled $1,158,128

Madison—(P)—Financial statistics of Oshkosh for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1926, are summarized in a report from the department of commerce at Washington.

The payments for maintenance and operation of the general departments of Oshkosh, for the fiscal year amounted to $1,158,128, or $34.79 per capita. In 1925 the comparative per capita for maintenance and operation of general departments was $21.01, and for 1917, $12.52. Payments for the operation of public service enterprises (waterworks and cemeteries) amounted to $22,430; interest on debt, $74,579; and outlays for permanent improvements, including those for public service enterprises, $181,164. The total payments therefore, for expenses of general departments and public service enterprises, interest, and outlays, were $1,803,501.

Of this amount, $29,897 represents payments by a city department or enterprise to another on account of services.

The totals include all payments for the year, whether made in current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

The total revenue receipts of Oshkosh for 1926, were $1,723,394, or $51.91 per capita. This was $401,257 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the payments for permanent but $79,207 less than the total payments including those for

BAGG DISCUSSES FLOOD CONDITIONS

Levees With Concrete Bases
Needed to Prevent Floods,
Professor Says

The only way to stop the floods along the Mississippi river is to build levees with strong concrete bases, Dr. M. Bagg, professor of geology at Lawrence college, told members of the Kiwanis club Wednesday noon at Conway hotel. Dr. Bagg spoke on the Mississippi Basin and Flood Conditions.

It will cost a small fortune to build the levees, but they must be built to save New Orleans and some of the richest farms in the country, Dr. Bagg said. New Orleans is the second most permanent improvements. These payments in excess of revenue receipts were met from the proceeds of debt obligations.

Of the total revenue receipts $52,987 represents receipts from a city department or enterprise on account of services.

Property taxes represented 33.3 per cent of the total revenue for 1926, 62.6 per cent from 1925, and 60.5 per cent for 1917. The increase in the amount of property taxes collected was 137.8 per cent from 1917 to 1925 and 3.3 per cent from 1925 to 1926. The per capita property taxes were $32.83 in 1926, $31.70 in 1925 and $13.56 in 1917.

Earnings of public service enterprises operated by the city represented 11.7 per cent of the total revenue for 1926, 11.4 per cent for 1925, and 12.8 per cent for 1917.

important port in America, and it cannot be endangered. Dike levees will furnish only temporary protection.

Dr. Bagg used charts to illustrate his talk. He compared the Mississippi, Nile and Amazon rivers, all of which have large flood deltas. The Mississippi river is the shortest, but causes the most damage. The Nile flood plains are exceedingly narrow, while the Amazon river is so wide naturally that often it cannot be told whether there is a flood or whether it is the natural spread of the river through the jungles and forests. The bed of the Mississippi river in one place is 100 feet lower than the Gulf of Mexico, the speaker pointed out.

HOW ABOUT 'AGRICULTURE'?

Hartford, Conn.—Pity the poor farmer—not because he may or may not need federal aid, but because the word "farmer" has been given an offensive and humiliating significance by cynical comedians. At least, so says Willard Rogers, who has requested the aid of the New England council in substituting the word "agriculturist" for "farmer." The older term, he says, has given tilters of the soil an inferiority complex.

ANNUAL EXPENSES OF KENOSHA REACH OVER $1,500,000

Per Capita Cost for Operating City for Year Amounts to $30.77

Madison—(P)—Payment for maintenance and operation of the general departments of Kenosha, Wis., for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1926, amounted to $1,521,700, or $30.77 per capita, figures received here from the federal department of commerce reveal.

In 1925 the comparative per capita for maintenance and operation of general departments was $29.50, and for 1926, $30.77. Payments for the operation of public service enterprises (waterworks and docks) amounted to $91,924; interest on debt, $141,450; and outlays for permanent improvements, including those for public service enterprises, $1,338,062. The total payments, therefore, for expenses of general departments and public enterprise interest, and outlays, were $3,617,215. Of this amount $60,020 represents payments by a city department or enterprise to another on account of services. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

The total revenue receipts of Kenosha for 1926, were $3,148,661, or $59.75 per capita. This was $1,290,568 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, but $485,554 less than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. These payments in excess of revenue receipts were met from the proceeds of debt obligations.

Property taxes represented 52.2 per cent of the total revenue for 1926, 47.6 per cent for 1925, and 47.1 per cent for 1924. The increase in the amount of property taxes collected was 19.1 per cent from 1924 to 1925, and 14.5 per cent from 1925 to 1926. The per capita property taxes were $91.50 in 1926, $83.20 in 1925, and $74.40 in 1924.

Earnings of public service enterprises operated by the city represented 8.0 per cent of the total revenue for 1926, 7.8 per cent for 1925, and 9.3 per cent for 1924.

The net indebtedness (funded or fixed debt less sinking fund assets) of Kenosha on Dec. 31, 1926, was $3,204,100, or $60.75 per capita. In 1925 the per capita debt was $56.39, and in 1924 $22.62.

The increased per capita net debt noted for 1926 is due to bond issues for permanent improvements to schools and to land contracts for highways and parks.

For 1926 the assessed valuation of property in Kenosha subject to ad valorem taxes for city corporation was $11,594,150. The levy for all purposes for 1926 was $2.036,708, of which $1,637,808 or 80.4 per cent, was levied for the city corporation; $10,229, or 0.6 per cent, for the state; and $588,171, or 13.1 per cent, for the county. The per capita tax levy for the city, state, and county was $33.65 in 1926, $33.61 in 1925, and $13.01 in 1924.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR PACKING ISSUED

Special packing instructions for insured parcels addressed to Great Britain and Northern Ireland containing liquids or any substance which easily liquefies have been emphasized by the postal department. Instances have come to the attention of the department, it was stated, where proper care was not taken in such packing. Failure to observe the requirements with regard to packing insured parcels not only jeopardizes the other mail in case of breakage of the containers of liquids but also deprives claimants of the right to indemnity in case of damage to the improperly packed articles, the regulations state.

Liquids or substances which easily liquefy must be packed in double containers. Between the inner receptacle and the outer one which should be of metal or strong wood, is to be a space where sawdust, bran or other absorbent material will be packed.

Q. How does the Flat Band Method build longer wear into United States Tires?

SPRAYED RUBBER
WEB CORD
FLAT BAND METHOD

A. The Flat Band Method, invented and patented by the United States Rubber Company, puts longer wear into a tire because it is the most precise method of tire building ever developed.

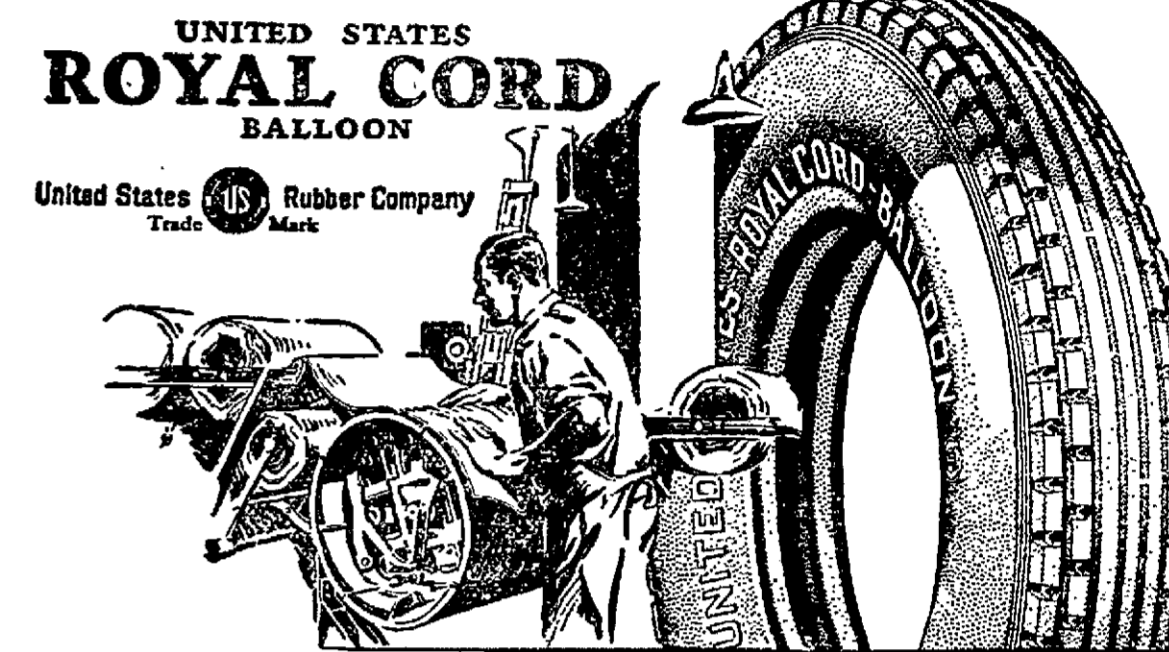

It is comparable to the exact engineering practice of bridge design and construction. Just as the position, length and load of each cable in a bridge are calculated and fixed in advance, so with the cords in a United States Tire.

By the Flat Band Method the plies are laid without tension. The length of each cord is precisely right. The relation of the cords, one to another, is exact.

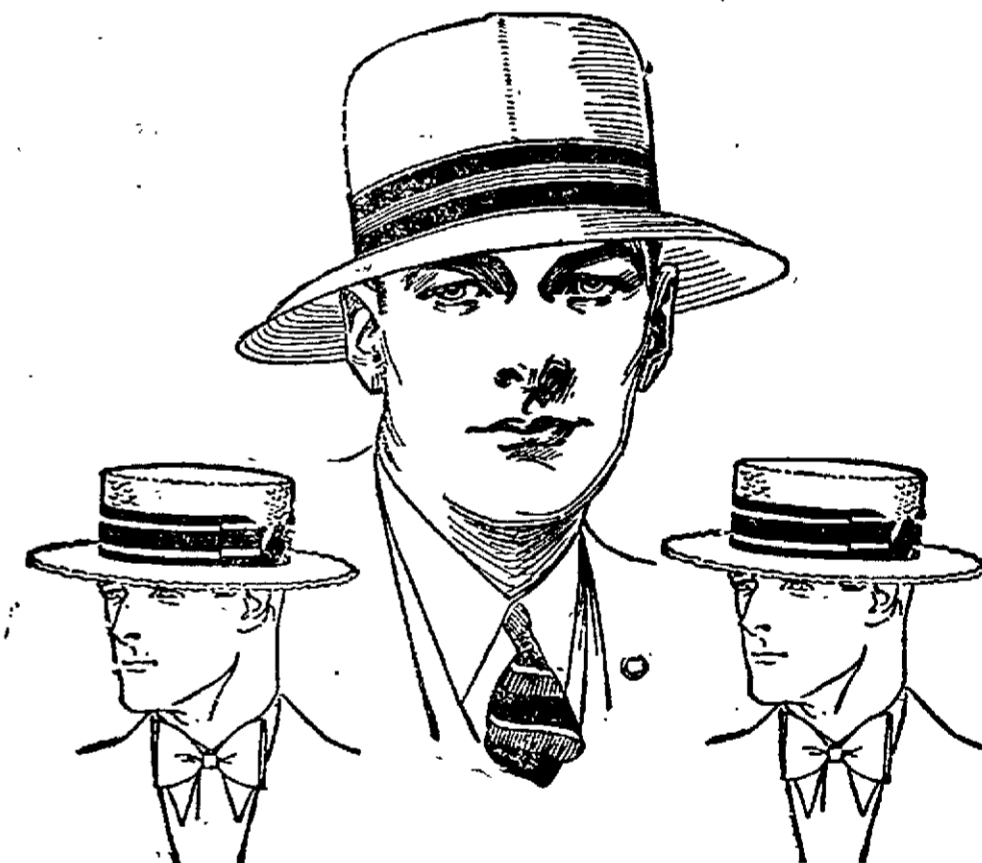

The result is a tire in which uniform tension and strength of every cord are assured. The load is equalized all around. Longer wear follows.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
BILLY WELLS, NIDA LOMAX, and WINNIE SHELTON, department store employees, are taken as wards in to the home of their employer, T. Q. CURTIS, for one year, because he wants to help them further their ambitions. Billy who wants to become a concert violinist, is the only one of the three who is sincerely ambitious, the other two having lied to enjoy T. Q.'s generosity.

A battle starts between the girls when they learn that T. Q. intends adopting one of them when the year is up. T. Q. does not know they have learned his intention. Billy is unwillingly drawn into the battle, and this, together with her infatuation for DAL ROMANINE, nephew of Mrs. MEADOWS, the hostess, causes her to lose interest in her violin. Through everything, she tenderly remembers CLAY CURTIS, son of her benefactor, who has disinherited himself and is living with the Wells family in the poor part of town, working in the Truman factory by day and writing music at night.

Romanine accompanies Billy on a shopping tour and directs her to a certain shop where she spends more than she should. As they ride toward the country, Billy sees Nida Lomax and EDDIE BANNING, her chauffeur, and a department store day. Puzzled by their secret meetings, Billy wonders just what the relation is between these two.

At a house in the country, Billy succumbs to Dal's hypnotic charms and allows him to make love to her. He tells her she belongs to him but begs her to keep their love-making a secret. When she leaves him, she goes to the home of her mother to think over all that has happened. While at home, she sees Clay again and almost forgets that she is in love with Romanine.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

During the week that followed Dalhart Romanine did not give Billy Wells much opportunity to forget that she was in love with him, but he took care that no one else should know their secret.

His favorite calling hour was between ten and eleven in the morning. T. Q. Curtis was at the store, Nida at the Cordelia Blount School for Kindergarten Teachers, and Winnie at the Knox Secretarial College.

"I don't want to make things harder for you, darling, by antagonizing Mr. Curtis where you're concerned. I believe he's begun to suspect that—I love you." His voice dropped to a low thrumming cadence as he spoke. "And since he dislikes me so much, I'm not going to be as frequent a guest here as I have been. Aunt Lucia simply refuses to believe that Mr. Curtis doesn't like me and insists that I come to dinner two or three times a week. But I want to be very careful for your sake, not to give him any cause for suspicion. That's the reason I'm so careful to divide my attentions between you and Nida and Winnie. But—you know, dear heart, don't you?"

She was so absorbed in her love for him and in her crying, desperate need of him, that she hardly realized that she was neglecting her music. On Wednesday, when she had explained to Professor Navratil, haltingly, shamefacedly, that it had been impossible for her to come for her violin lesson on Monday, the music master had curtly informed her that it did not matter, that she had been taking more lessons than were good for her. "Then you think that twice a week," she asked flatteringly, hoping that her voice did not betray her eagerness to seize this means of escape from what threatened to be a serious financial situation.

"Once a week," Navratil had told her firmly. "I have more pupils now than I can manage."

She desisted herself for the swift rush of relief she felt as she calculated how much the new schedule of lessons would save her. She—Billy Wells—she who had played on her knees for a chance to study violin under a real master!

But Dal Romanine filled her heart and mind too wholly to allow her much time for brooding over her undeniable loss of interest in her violin. She did promise herself to practice religiously four hours a day, but Dal came every morning, and her violin was laid down with scarcely a sigh so that she might give herself to his arms. And so there was little violin practice in the mornings. The afternoons were delightfully hectic with bridge parties, shopping sorties in gay little parties of two or three well-dressed, easy-spending girls; with matinees, concerts and drives, with receiving callers and making calls.

When she did encounter them in the upper halls, slipping about in colorful, rich negligees or downstair, dressed rather too well for afternoon affairs, the meetings were not pleasant ones. Billy always left them with new thorns in her sensitive heart. She did not mind Nida's sultry-eyed insolence very much, for she knew that Nida's life was somehow bound up inextricably with Eddie Banning, no matter how much Nida would like to snap the bonds, but for Winnie she found herself developing an intense, primitive hatred. There was bitter, open warfare between them, and each knew the real cause of their enmity was their never discussed love for Dal Romanine.

One afternoon when Winnie had been called to the phone, and had then dressed in a fury of haste, to rush away to some unmentioned appointment, Billy stood in the hallway of the third floor, holding on the staircase for support. The look which Winnie had cast at her had been charged with malicious triumph; her lips had been quivered in a mocking, secret-revealing smile.

As Billy stood there, looking dizzily down in the well of the circular staircase, winding clear to the first floor, Mrs. Meadows came out of her own room, rustling soft draperies of lilac silk.

"Has Winnie gone, dear?" she asked gently, but her pale brown eyes were frowning with worry. "I wanted to give her a message for Dal. I should have spoken to him when I answered the phone."

She went on, in her soft, complaining voice, but Billy did not hear her. She leaned far over the stair railing, and the only coherent thought in her mind was that if she flung herself into that deep well her heart would never hurt again.

"Oh, dear! There's the phone again! Having three girls in the house—Mrs. Meadows trailed her draperies in to her room to answer the telephone, which had extensions in the bedroom of each of the girls.

"For you, Billy!"

Billy drew back, dazed, nauseated at the thought of what she had almost done. She ran to her own room, to answer the call on her own extension, her heart pounding with the hope that the call might be from Dal, that he wasn't stealing off with Winnie after all—

"Hello! Billy Wells speaking!" Her voice was low and breathless.

"Hello, there! This is Ralph, Billy." "Oh!" Her voice betrayed her terrible disappointment. "Oh, hello, Ralph! How are you?"

"Great! Listen, Billy, you've been promising to go through the factory with me, and if you're not doing anything else, you might as well come along with me today. What say? I'll call for you in half an hour. You can see 'em assemble an automobile, and if you like the bus, you can take it home with you under your arm. Will you come, Billy?"

Her first thought was that, if she went to the Truman Automobile Factory, she would see Clay! She hardly remembered his existence this dreadful, ecstatic, nerve-tearing week, but now she knew she needed more than anything else, for the sake of her sanity, a sight of his dear, kind face, with its wistful, boyish black eyes—open, frank eyes, that were never filled with anything more sinister than music-begotten dreams. "I'd love to, Ralph!" she cried, her voice breaking on a note of tearful gladness.

The Truman factory buildings sprawled over two acres of valuable ground on the north edge of Colfax. Factory laborers reached it by buses, operated without cost to employed by the Truman company. It had given her a queer shock of pride and grief and anger one day to see Clay Curtis, cared in luxury and natural hair to millions, hanging to a strap in one of those crowded coaches.

Ralph Truman flung out bits of amazing information on the magnitude of the industry. Billy scarcely listened; her nerves were too tense, her head too light and dizzy from lack of sleep to concentrate, but she caught phrases, tried to make them mean something.

"Here we are, Billy dear," Ralph told her, as he swung his car along a curving driveway to park it before an imposing building of white marble, with magnificent Doric columns. "This is the main building. We'll take just a peep in here, then we'll wander through the plant, and let you see how automobiles are made."

The vastness of the offices bewildered her. It seemed to her that hundreds of stenographers and clerks paused fleetingly at their tasks to smile upon good-looking Ralph Truman and the small, boyish figure that he was escorting with such evident pride.

They crossed to factory buildings, Ralph pointing out the landscaped gardens, which would be a mad riot of color in another month or so. "The enormous, square building where 'parts' were manufactured seemed to be made entirely of windows, glinting brightly in the March sunshine. Even before they entered the building, Billy's ears were assaulted by a subdued rumble of noise, like the monotonous protest of thousands of caged beasts.

"Does Clay work here?" Billy shouted, rising on tiptoe to make herself heard.

His raised eyebrows questioned her. "Clay?" she asked.

Ralph nodded, looked into her eyes searchingly for a minute, then sighing slightly before he smiled, he led her through a maze of narrow aisles, her every step apparently menaced by gargantuan machines, their gleaming black bodies in a frenzy of activity.

She was glad that she saw Clay before he saw her, for he was spared the sight of her flaming horror of his grease-streaked face, and of his crouching, convulsively twitching body. She caught her breath on a sob of pity as she looked at him—at the fear and hatred of the machine which twined at every muscle in his sensitive face. Poor Clay! All day, every day hating it, but going through with it, so that he might keep body and soul together, might prove to a sardonic, kind-hearted, but doubting old man that he, too, was a man. She wanted to cry out to him to come away with her, to shake off these grease-foul overalls, to go back to his rightful place in the world. But even as she started to cry out to him, in shocked pity and protest, something of which she had been dimly conscious ever since she had entered the factory rapped for recognition along every fibre of her musician's body.

(To Be Continued)

There is something within this great, throbbing factory that is to mean much to Clay Curtis. And Billy Wells discovers it.

The name tells you everything. Dance at Valley Queen, 12 Cor., Sun. and Mon.

PLANTS, FLAGS WILL DECORATE GRAVES HERE

Potted plants and flags will be used to decorate soldiers' graves for Memorial day this year instead of evergreen wreaths and flags, J. D. Hanchett, commander of the George D. Eggleston post of the Grand Army of the Republic and chairman of the combined group which has charge of plans for Memorial day services this year, announced. Heavy rains this spring have made it almost impossible to get into the woods to secure the greens.

About 450 soldiers' graves will be decorated this year. These include graves at St. Joseph, St. Mary and Riverside cemeteries as well as those in the rural districts. Rural mail carriers will assist in decorating these in the country districts.

The group in charge of the day includes the Eggleston post, the Charles O. Brier camp of Spanish American War veterans, the Spanish American war auxiliary, the Oney Johnston post of the American legion, and its auxiliary, the Woman's Relief corps, and Ladies of the J. T. Reeve circle.

More than a half million young men in the United States are said to have adopted the feminine habit of using cosmetics and face lotions to their complexions.

Local Man Says Dreco Woke His Liver Up From A Four Year Nap

Stewart at Elks Club feels fine since this important organ is now working regularly.

"For the past four or five years my liver has been fast asleep and nothing I took seemed able to wake it up," said Mr. Roy D. Kelso, Stewart at the Elks Club, Appleton & Lawrence St. this city, in a recent talk with the Dreco man at Schlitz Bros. Drug Store.

"During this time I suffered greatly from constipation, indigestion, headaches and other complaints caused by a sluggish liver. My tongue was almost perfectly white, I had a stale, nasty taste in my mouth and my breath was so objectionable I was ashamed of it. I always felt tired and drowsy no matter how much sleep I got and my stomach seemed bloated and heavy all the time.

"I had been stung so many times by buying medicines which did me no good I was mighty slow in trying Dreco but I finally started on it and now I am glad to say my liver is awake and on the job again and I feel fine in every respect. I'm no longer troubled with constipation, headaches, or indigestion, my tongue has cleared up nicely, my breath is O. K. and the foul nasty taste has left my mouth. My appetite has improved, I sleep better and, in fact, feel better in every way."

To those persons who suffer from headaches, gastritis, nervousness, constipation, poor sleep, weak kidneys, lazy liver, a deranged stomach or impure slow flowing blood, Dreco will prove a wonder to you. Try it today and see how quick the results will come.

Mr. H. W. C. Marr Baker, the well-known Elks Club member from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. Downtown Drug Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him.

SENATOR HEFLIN GETS ATTENTION ON TALKING TOUR

Country at Large Appreciates
Him Even if Washington
Failed to Do So

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—If the lion J. Thomas Hefflin, senator from the state of Alabama, isn't adequately appreciated here in Washington, perhaps the country at large is making up for it. Ever since Congress adjourned, senator Hefflin has been giving audiences a dose of the golden voice that they could otherwise never hear without coming to Washington. He has been out west and down south and now faces tours through Pennsylvania and New England. Terre Haute, Ind., will hear him on Memorial Day.

Generally he speaks on Mexico and Nicaragua and belabors the Catholic hierarchy in the manner which brought the ringing raspberry down on his silvery head during the last session. It is the senator's boast that only eight or ten states haven't heard him so far and he'll get to 'em yet. Hefflin's office has compiled some of the off-sive bursts of praise which his speeches have occasioned. Full reports aren't in yet on the success of Hefflin's religious speeches, although those few who think as Hefflin does about things say that he is paying his way to the White House. The compilation of comment on other addresses seems to indicate that those who have regarded Hefflin as a public nuisance must be all wet. "It will be many moons before Shelby will forget Tom Hefflin, and years before they say of another speaker 'He's as good as Hefflin,'" said the Shelby, N. C. Star.

"Davidson College may well boast of having one of the few treats of a life time that comes from the speaker's platform," echoes the Davidsonian of Davidson, N. C.

"Senator Hefflin is indeed a masterful speaker and held his audience as no other speaker, in Corning, has ever done," the Corning, Ark., Times-News is quoted as saying.

Other quotations include: "Those who heard the masterly address of J. Thomas Hefflin, the distinguished senator from Alabama, who spoke in the school auditorium here last Monday evening, could but return to their homes with a feeling of pride that the south was their home and birthplace."—The Chatham News of Thomasville, N. C.

"The lecture was the finest ever heard in Lincoln and we are all crazy about Senator Hefflin."—J. W. Mullins, president Lincoln, N. C. Kiwanis Club.

"The business and professional men of this town are to be congratulated for bringing this great man among us."—The Loneoke, Ark., Democrat.

"He will go down into history as the great story-teller who ever passed through this part of the country."—Raleigh, N. C. News and Observer.

"No mere reporter can do justice to the man—his message and magnetic personality—they must be seen, heard and felt to be appreciated."—The Danwell, S. C. Peoples Sentinel.

ROHLOFF IS FOUND GUILTY OF FORGERY

Penalty Is from One to Seven Years in State Prison; Sentence Deferred

Arnold C. Rohloff, Appleton, was found guilty of forgery by a jury in the higher branch of municipal court Wednesday afternoon. The case was tried before Judge Theodore Berg who deferred rendering the sentence. The penalty for this crime is not less than one or more than seven years in state prison.

Rohloff was arrested April 9 by Officer M. McGinnis on a complaint of the Appleton State bank where he was alleged to have cashed a forged check for $32.16. The check was drawn on the Second Ward Savings bank of Milwaukee and was signed E. J. Braun Co., Inc., per E. J. B. It was returned marked no account.

Rohloff contended that he received the check from E. J. Braun in return for some materials furnished him by the Aer Pruf Manufacturing company of Appleton which he represents. He also stated that he did not cash the check at the Appleton State bank but at a saloon. Tim Sauer, Jr., assistant cashier at the bank, testified that he had cashed the check for Rohloff on March 28.

Rohloff was given a preliminary hearing before Judge Berg April 15 and was bound over for trial. He failed to furnish bonds of $500.00 and was held in the county jail.

Records show that Rohloff was sentenced May 23, 1925, to the Green

CHERRY TREES WILL BE IN FULL BLOOM FOR WEEKEND TRIP

Sturgeon Bay—(P)—"Cherry Land" will be the objective for many visitors this weekend with the announcement that "the land" located at the tip of Door county peninsula, is accessible either through Green Bay by way of highway 78 or by state trunk 37 (trail) along the shore of Lake Michigan from Milwaukee through Manitowish and Two Rivers.

Orchard owners announced early this week that the trees, which were set back about 2 weeks in their growth this year because of the late spring and the cool weather, would be in full bloom on Sunday and Memorial Day. As there are several thousand acres of cherry trees here, people who have never seen this annual event are especially urged to make the trip. In previous years visitors have traveled from all sections of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan to see the blossoms.

The Door-co resort owners have made arrangements to care for the anticipated visitors and the Sturgeon Bay Association of Commerce, which has furnished several Wisconsin newspapers with maps showing the various highways leading into the heart of "Cherry Land," announce that everything will be done to entertain them.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

MR. WORK'S POINTERS ON AUCTION BRIDGE
The pointer for today is: WHEN TWO LEADS OF A SUIT ARE NEEDED FROM A DUMMY WITH TWO ENTRIES, MAKE THE FIRST WHEN DUMMY WINS ITS FIRST TRICK.

The contract, South (Dealer) one No Trump. The play to the first trick: West, Spade 6; North, Spade Ace; East, Spade 8; South, Spade 4. On trick 2, the play should be:

North Heart 2; East, Heart 3; South, Heart Queen; West, Heart 4.

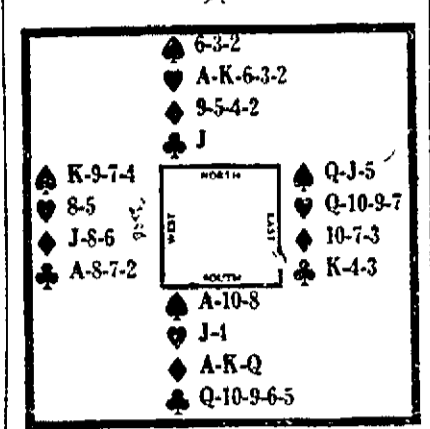

Declarer, forced to win the first trick in Dummy, can count two Spade tricks, four Diamonds, two Hearts, if West have the King of Hearts, three if East have it and the finesse is

GUARD MEMBERS GET READY FOR ENCAMPMENT

Members of Co. D, 127th Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard, are preparing for their summer encampment at Camp Williams from July 7 to 23. The company probably will leave on a special train at about 8 o'clock in the morning of July 7. Drills are being held in preparation for the camp and work on the machine gun range will start as soon as the ground dries up enough to permit outdoor work. The federal government has renewed its lease on the machine gun range for five years, according to an announcement received by Captain E. P. Gruendeman, commanding officer of Co. D. First Lieut. Clyde Schroeder, who has been attending a special machine gun school for officers at Fort Benning, Ga., is expected to return to Appleton this week. He will take charge of the machine gun work of the company.

taken twice. Ordinarily with eight an effort would be made to establish the Clubs; but that would lose three Club tricks; after losing the first Club trick, the adverse Spades would be established and game would be lost. Game can only be made if the Heart finesse succeeds, and if it is tried twice. So on trick 2 Dummy should lead a small Heart and, if the finesse succeeds, it should be repeated when Dummy gets in again as he readily can do with the Jack of Diamonds.

The bidding: South (Dealer), one No Trump. West, pass; North, two Hearts; East, pass; South, two No Trumps which obtains the contract. The play to the first trick: West, Club 2; North, Club Jack; East, Club King; South, Club 5.

The question is: Which cards should be played to trick 2?

Answer Slip of May 26th

On trick 2, the play should be: EAST SOUTH WEST NORTH

ABOLISH "BAG RUSH" AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Madison—(P)—Wisconsin's historic "bag rush" will be no more.

Action of the student senate at the university has done away with the annual clash between freshmen and sophomores substituting a tug-of-war instead.

Frequent and numerous injuries, some serious, resulting from the scramble of the bag rush caused the athletic officials to recommend such action. With bags laid in mid-field and yearlings and sophomores lined up on opposite sides, the signal sent both sides into a fray that resembled a miniature war.

Clothes were torn by the square yard and bloody noses predominated. "Too rough" was the ultimatum of the athletic department and the senate group concurred.

Under the new ruling 15 bags will be used with ropes running through them of equal length on each side of the bag. Freshman and sophomores will line up, as of yore, on opposite sides of the field. The struggle will then be to get the bags on their sides of the line.

The contest between the two classes is held to determine "class supremacy."

UNIVERSITY SANCTIONS STUDENT WORKER LEAGUE

Madison—(P)—Plans for the newly organized Wisconsin Student Worker's League, a union of students working their way through school, was sanctioned at a meeting held this week at the University of Wisconsin.

A feature of the meeting was the reading of President Glenn Frank's statement to the student workers, in which he said in part, that although he was heartily in accord with the proposed unionization of wage-earning students, that he believed in collective bargaining and that the attempt would be an interesting educational experiment for the students, still there were several interesting questions in his mind.

"Will you, as students," the message read in part, "take pains to understand the newer and more creative tendencies in organized labor, or will you be content to adopt only the older and cruder practices of organized labor?"

ADVENTISTS TO MEET IN PORTAGE JUNE 9

Madison—(P)—About 100 Madison Seventh Day Adventists will be a part of the gathering of more than 500 men, women and children who will gather at Portage from June 9 to 12 for the annual camp meeting of the southern Wisconsin conference.

Tents for 125 families will be pitched at the camp grounds, a vegetable cafeteria will be conducted and a bookstore will be conducted. Most of the preparations are being made by the clergymen of almost 60 churches which will take part.

A permanent camp is now being built by the southern Wisconsin conference, with a summer hotel as its center. The headquarters at South Madison will be closed during the ten days of the conference, according to A. P. Petersen, secretary and treasurer, of the district.

And They Call Him The "Flying Fool"

Because this young lad, hardly out of his teens, had the nerve to back his judgment and the skill to win, the public call him the "Flying Fool." Yet it is men like this who make history — it is men like this who put the United States first in the honor and respect of the entire world.

Years ago, when Voecks Bros. first conceived the idea of a meat market, selling only the finest of meat, many people laughed, and some commented upon the futility of such a market in a town so small as Appleton. Yet by rigid adherence to a belief, we have won. Now the people of Appleton can obtain, when they wish, the finest meat in the country, right here at home.

Is There A Second
Now Mister Chairman M. F. J.
Along about the end of May
There comes our Decoration Day:

Along about this time let's say Interior Decoration Day!
—Pedro H. Gossart.

Help! Help!

He heard the stern boss yell;
And Andy said (the boy was bright):
"I wouldn't be much help."

GOD IS JUST!

Dear Mr. F. L.:
My mother-in-law is pretty well off
so, when she was taken very sick a month ago, I promptly suggested to my wife that we take her to our home.

I showered every attention on her,
sat up and read to her, held her hand
and served her meals myself.
"Charles," she said, "you've been so good to me. I never thought you liked me. But you've shown me different. I'm going to leave everything to you."

That night the doctor said she had taken a turn for the better. In a week
she was well.
"Charles," she said, "I couldn't bear to think of leaving your home you've been so good to me. I'll stay here from now on."

Only Ours!
THAT WAS MY UNLUCKY DAY!
—Charles R. Altman.

Dear Mr. Judell:
My wife had been talking up the culture of her Aunt Hester, who was coming to visit us. She had succeeded in making me terribly uncomfortable. I looked forward to two weeks of polite misery.

The thing was especially unfortunate because my Uncle Walter, a kind but rather erratic old fellow, had just visited us and had made some pretty bad breaks.

On the first night of Aunt Hester's visit, I remarked, "Mr. Hester was certainly a bellicose president."

"Roosevelt!" said Aunt Hester.
"You must mean Mr. Taft."
Twitching Grasshoppers:
THAT WAS MY LUCKY DAY!
—Arthur C. Hoppen.

MARRIAGE

(As it reached the Joke Factory of THE FUN SHOP)

Richard: "I hear that Susan is going to be married again."

Marle: "Yes, she's been married so often that the wedding bells sound
just like an alarm clock to her!"
—M. L. T.

(And as other FUN SHOP contributors assembled the parts—)

What She Does

Betty: "I hear that Irene got married again."

Sylvia: "Yes, she has been married
a dozen times."

Betty: "Doesn't the tire of carrying orange blossoms so often?"

Sylvia: "Certainly. Now she only uses an alarm clock and sprinkles orange juice over herself!"
—Gerardine F. Gifford.

Weighting at the Altar

Fillings: "I heard that Jolly Marie was married the other night. She weighed 320 pounds and she married a man weighing 415 pounds!"

Henderson: "I imagine coming up the aisle they made a pleasant picture."

Fillings: "Picture? Oh, yes—The Big Parade!"
—Margaret McGinn.

The Minister's Little Joke

Minnie: "They asked the minister to change the wedding ceremony."

Adelle: "Did he do it?"

Minnie: "No. He said the fee they gave him was so small it didn't allow for alterations!"
—Barbara Carste.

NEARBY
TOWNSTOBACCO COSTS AS MUCH AS SCHOOLS, DOUDNA POINTS OUTState Spends $5,000,000 Annually to Maintain Educational Institutions

Special to Post-Crescent
New London — Wisconsin citizens spend as much money for tobacco in one year as for operating their schools, E. C. Doudna, Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin State Teachers' association, told members of the graduating class of New London high school at commencement exercises here Wednesday evening.

Operation of schools in the state amounts to $3,000,000 annually, he pointed out. This is one-fourth of the total cost of maintaining automobiles and one-fifth of the amount spent on cosmetics in Wisconsin in a year. And yet, emphasized, there were 94 bills introduced into the legislature the past year to minimize the "exorbitant amount spent on education."

Mr. Doudna cited four reasons for this "exorbitant" cost of educating our 25,000,000 boys and girls enrolled in Wisconsin schools.

There are more boys and girls attending school now than ever before. Students spend more years in furthering their education than before. No other nation in the world opens its doors to education as does America, and a wider and more expensive course of study is being offered.

Much more is asked of the school of today. Aside from the necessary fundamentals, it is expected that the school take care of the child's health, his morals, his special talents, and also offer many lines that are deemed necessary for the individual development of the child, matters that were heretofore taken care of in the home.

Tax payers do not realize that tax money cannot buy more for the child than it can for the individual pleasure. A dollar will buy only a dollar's worth, however invested.

Much stress is being centered on the matter of developing individual and scientific thinking from the time the boy and girl enters school life, according to Mr. Doudna. Three great factors are considered in this phase of education:

They are: How to make intelligence general enough to solve the problems of every day life; how to overcome the things that make for selfishness; the blind tolerance which is strongly manifested in the world today.

"Success in meeting all these problems depends entirely upon the success with which our schools teach students to think in a scientific way," he said.

"The modern school determines what the child is fit to do. Courses in manual training are taught primarily for the purpose of dignifying and placing on an educational basis work which heretofore has been looked on as common drudgery.

"The need of building into the lives of boys and girls ideals which will guide them to the high road of life and steer them away from the low roads is strongly emphasized. Every means is being developed to control the child from within, to guide him by example rather than by threat. Religion and literature are suggested as the best mediums outside of the home of accomplishing this aim. America needs a rebirth of idealism, the one great instrument in our lives that builds ideals. The thing which has done much in our lives all youth is the example set by the teacher. Schools must aim to keep the finest type of manhood and womanhood for the influence of the daily contact between teacher and pupil is most lasting."

31 JUNIOR HIGH PUPILS
GRADUATE AT NEW LONDON

New London Graduation exercises for the New London Junior High school were held during the assembly period Thursday noon. Ellis X. Cant was the speaker for the occasion. Alfred R. Schumann, principal of the junior high school, awarded the diplomas to 31 graduates: Vera Anderson, Kathryn Bessett, Hazel Black, Monroe Brown Brown, Zella Cousins, Donald Dawson, Ernie Foley, Doris Granger, Rosetta Hansen, Harold Holsa, Loren Johnson, Clayton Kellogg, Verna Krause, Earl Knuth, Esther La Marche, Glenn Mauna, Lyda Nader, Alice Palmer, Charles Pfeiffer, Gladys Pinner, Egbert Mathewson, Margaret Mathewson, Emma Schumacher, Gertrude Schroeder, Grace Shepard, Charles Sofia, George Spurr, Della Starks, Solie Stuchman, Egon Strossenbecker, Chester Ward, Lorraine Wiedenbeck, Wilfred Wiedenbeck, Irvin Ziebell, Stanley Ziemer.

The driver of the car and other occupants, Corliss Lency of this city, escaped unhurt except for a few minor cuts and bruises.
